S. 176(1)(a)–Substitution.– Before substitution by F. Act, 2015, it read as follows:-

"(a) to furnish to the Commissioner or an authorised officer, any information relevant to any tax [1][leviable] under this Ordinance as specified in the notice; or"

S. 176–Notice u/s 176.– Following is an extract from 'ICAP's President Letter dated August 28, 2009:-

"As mentioned in my Communication - 8, notices were issued by the Federal Board of Revenue (FBR) to some of the audit firms under Section 176 of the Income Tax Ordinance, 2001 requiring them to submit working paper files and other information relating to their clients.

The Institute held high level meetings with the Chairman and other senior officials of the FBR to address this matter on priority basis. I am pleased to report that FBR has agreed with our view that it is not appropriate for tax authorities to require audit working papers from audit firms, and FBR has withdrawn such notices."

S. 176–Authorisation to various authorities.– Please see notes to section 210.

Changes by F.A. 2005.- Following is an extract from 'Notes on Clauses of Finance Bill 2005':–

"(a) Seeks to clarify the provision for obtaining information from the taxpayer;

(b) Seeks to enable a person from whom information has been called for, to furnish the required information electronically."

Following is an extract from CBR's Circular No. 1 of 2005 dated July 5, 2005:–

"Previously, the Commissioner could require any person, whether or not liable to tax, to furnish information relevant to any tax "imposed" under the Ordinance. Through this amendment, the expression "imposed" has been substituted by the expression "leviable" as the expression "imposed" was being interpreted in a restrictive manner. Now the amended provisions would cover the entire tax "leviable" under the Ordinance.

Furthermore, it is also provided that the person from whom information is required may opt for filing the information through the electronic media. This will facilitate the person and also improve efficiency."

Widening of scope.– Following is an extract from CBR's Circular No. 6 of 1994 dated July 10, 1994, explaining the corresponding provisions of Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"DCIT, IAC, CIT or any other officer authorized in this behalf by the CIT or CBR, is empowered under section 144 to call for information from brokers, dealers, agents and other concerned taxpayers regarding interest, commission, royalty or brokerage. Section 144 in its existing form did not cover 'fees' paid to professionals. Similarly, the expression 'payment' did not specifically include 'valuable consideration'.

The scope of section 144 has, therefore, been extended by an amendment in order to specifically include in its ambit 'fees' and any other payment or remuneration in the nature of 'valuable consideration' under whatever nomenclature." [Ref:94 ITC 5 p. 5*]

These powers have been granted in view of the fact that the Federal Government intends to get audit conducted in a transparent manner and as such an MoU has been signed with ICAP which will be effective from 1st July, 2009."

2. Protection of Economic Reforms Act, 1992 provides immunity to foreign currency accounts from any inquiry from the Income Tax Department. By virtue of section 3 this Act has an overriding effect with respect to certain other laws including the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979. Section 5 of the aforementioned Act envisages that the banks shall maintain complete secrecy in respect of transactions in the foreign currency accounts. Section 9 of the said Act states that secrecy of bonafide banking transactions shall be strictly observed by all banks and financial institutions, by whosoever owned, controlled or managed.

3. The banks have recently started refusing to furnish information under section 144(c) even in respect of rupee account on the ground that they have to maintain secrecy in respect thereof under the Protection of Economic Reforms Act, 1992. The issue has been examined and it is clarified that under the said Act immunity has been extended to foreign exchange accounts only. Rupee account was not the subject of the aforementioned Act. The Act has to be taken as a whole and not read in a piece meal fashion. Banks are under legal obligation to provide information to the Department under section 144(c) of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979. Default of a notice under the said section can lead to penal action as provided in the law."

Mandatory Compliance with Statutory Audit Procedures under Section 177 of the Income Tax Ordinance, 2001 – Instructions & Advisory.– Following is the text of C. No. 3(8)SS(A&A)/2023 dated March 28, 2025:–

"The Honorable Appellate Tribunal Inland Revenue in its recent judgment in the case of Mr. CM Rafi, Maj. General (Rtd) Vs. DCIR AEOI Zone, Islamabad (Authored by Malik Muhammad Akram, JM) has dilated upon the procedure for conducting audit u/s 177 and subsequent steps for framing legally sound assessment orders. A brief summary of structured approach that has been formally, sanctioned by the Tribunal are as under:

1. Legal Imperatives for Audit Proceedings under Section 177 of the Income Tax Ordinance, 2001

A. Audit Report is Mandatory:

An audit report under Section 177(6) must be issued after completing the audit, detailing observations, findings, and proposed adjustments.

Non-compliance (e.g., omission of a formal audit report) renders the assessment void ab-initio (refer to 2018 PTO 1444 and 2022 125 TAX 354).

B. Confrontation of Findings:

Taxpayers must be given a clear opportunity to respond to all audit observations in writing before finalizing the report. Specific discrepancies (e.g., unexplained credits, unreported income) must be quantified and legally substantiated in the report.

2. Procedural Steps for Conducting Audits

Field formations must adhere to the following sequence:

A. Initiation of Audit

Issue an intimation letter under Section 177(1) specifying:

i. Reason for selection (random/parametric).
ii. Tax year under audit.
iii Documents/records required (books of accounts, bank statements, etc.).

8-190-15-07-2026

B. Examination & Audit Report

i. Document all proceedings on the order sheet (quasi-judicial requirement under Section 224.
ii. Issue a formal audit report under Section 177(6) containing:
iii. Executive summary of findings.
iv. Legal basis for each discrepancy (e.g., Section 111(1)(b) for unexplained assets).
v. Quantified adjustments with calculations (e.g. sectoral benchmarks for income estimation).

C. Taxpayer's Right to Explain

Allow the taxpayer to:

i. File revised returns under Section 114(6A) (with reduced penalties if compliance is timely).
ii. Submit rebuttal evidence before issuance of the show-cause notice under Section 122(9).

D. Best .Judgment Assessment (If Records Not Provided)

i. If the taxpayer fails to furnish records, proceed under Section 177(10) read with Section 121 (best judgment assessment).
ii. Do not continue audit proceedings without records-switch to Section 121 immediately.

3. Critical Deficiencies to Avoid

The ATIR highlighted the following common lapses leading to judicial annulment:

i. Audit reports Findings must be specific, legally grounded, and backed by evidence.
ii. Any new discrepancy (e.g., unreported foreign income) must be separately confronted via a supplementary notice (CIR vs. RYK Mills, 2023 SCMR 1856).
iii. Maintain a detailed order sheet for every interaction with the taxpayer.

4. Directives for Compliance

i. Training: Commissioners must conduct workshops on the proper drafting of audit reports and confrontation procedures.
ii. Review Mechanism: Chief Commissioners shall randomly audit 10% of closed audits to ensure procedural compliance.
iii. Accountability Non-compliance will attract disciplinary action under the FBR's performance rules.

5. Conclusion

Strict adherence to the above instructions is imperative to uphold the integrity of assessments and minimize litigation. The ATIR's order underscores that procedural lapses invalidate assessments, regardless of substantive merits.

Immediate action is expected to disseminate these instructions to all assessing officers under your jurisdiction."

Assistance to Commissioner.– Every Officer of Customs, [1][], Provincial Excise and Taxation, District Coordination Officer, District Officers including District Officer – Revenue, the Police and the Civil Armed Forces is empowered and required to assist the Commissioner in the discharge of the Commissioner's functions under this Ordinance.

8-100-31-07-13

Following is an extract from CBR's Circular No. 6 of 1997, dated the 15th July, 1997:–

"To rationalize the quantum of penalties, amendments have been made in sections 108, 109, 110 and 111 as under:–

a) Penalty for failure to furnish returns of income (Section 108).- Penalty can now be imposed @0.1% of the tax payable for each day of default subject to a minimum of Rs. 500 and the maximum of 25% of the tax payable." [Ref:97 ITC 6 p. 6*]

Following is an extract from Circular No. 4 of 1979, dated August 23,1979:–

"Provisions of this section are same as those of old Section 28(1)(a). However, penalty for not filing return of income under Sections 55, 56, 65(1), 72(3) or 81(3) for not furnishing statements/certificates/information under Sections 51, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143 or 144 is now only Rs. 100 per day. Previously under Section 28(1)(a), the penalty was Rs. 5,000/- plus Rs. 100 per day."

Following are extracts from CBR's Circular No. 6 of 1994 dated July 10, 1994:–

"Section 108 has been amended with the following consequences:

(i) The word "may" has been substituted by the word "shall". Thus, it will now be mandatory (and not discretionary) upon the assessing officer to impose penalty in case of default."

"(iii) Penalty for non-submission of any certificates, statement, or accounts or information (under sections 51, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 143A, 143B or 144) was also marginal i.e. only upto one hundred rupees for every day of default. This did not prove to be sufficient deterrent to enforce compliance. The amount of penalty has, therefore, been enhanced to two thousand rupees and a further sum of two hundred rupees for each day of default." [Ref:94 ITC 5 p. 5*]

Following is the text of CBR's Letter C. No. 108(1)DTB-1/94 dated January 9, 1995, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"I am directed to enclose copy of letter No. HPFI/PIN/1-TAX/4444, dated January 4, 1995 received from Mr. Muhammad Nawaz, Deputy Manager (Finance). Hazara Phosphate Fertilisers (Pvt.) Ltd. Haripur on the subject wherein the correspondent has drawn attention of the Board towards hardship being faced in consequence of amendment of section 108, whereby, not only the imposition of penalty has been made mandatory, but also the amount of penalty has been enhanced. It has been requested that salaried class may be excluded from this clause "as these people are innocent and hardly meet their livelihood from salary income and are unable to pay penalties whereas they have paid the tax".

2. It appears that the substitution of word "may" by the word "shall" has created the impression that penalty has to be universally imposed, without any exception whatsoever, if there is a default. This is not the correct interpretation. The major prerequisite for imposition of penalty has always been a default committed "without reasonable cause". This precondition still persists. The only change effected is the extinguishment of assessing officer's discretion when the assessee fails to explain "reasonable cause". The position which emerges from judicial pronouncements is that the default should be willful. If the assessee is not guilty of gross or willful neglect, penalty is not leviable. Addl. CIT v. Chattur Singh Taragi (1980) 41 Tax 95. It is submitted that imposition of penalty is still discretionary in a way as the authority competent to impose penalty and exercise discretion if it is convinced that default was not willful. Inadvertent and bona fide mistake or omission need not even now be penalised because of the presence of precondition is "reasonable cause". Onus to prove that the assessee has committed a willful default lies with the department. "The authority competent to impose penalty proceedings must possess some incontrovertible evidence to initiate penalty proceedings." – CIT v. L.H. Vora (1968) 17 Tax 7 (Trib.).

3. In view of the above facts, if is requested that all officers may kindly be advised to be judicious in imposition of penalties and give due weightage to the explanation of default before imposition of penalty. This has become more important because of enhancement in the amount of penalties leviable."

S. 182A–Return not filed within due date.- Following is an extract from FBR's Circular No. 9 of 2019 dated July 30, 2019:-

"Section 182A was introduced through the Finance Act, 2018. As per this section, where a person fails to file a return of income under section 114 within the due date as specified in section 118 or by the date as extended by the Board or as extended by the Commissioner, such person shall not be included in the active taxpayers' list for the year for which return was not filed within due date and such person shall not be allowed to carry forward any loss under Part VIII of Chapter IV. As a result, persons who file return after the due date would be subjected to higher tax rate for not appearing in the ATL for the whole year whereas such persons had filed their return. Through the Finance Act, 2019, a proviso has been added in clause (a) of sub-section (1) of section 182A which allows inclusion in the ATL after the due date on payment of surcharge which is Rs.20,000 in case of a company, Rs.10,000 in case of an AOP and Rs.1,000 in case of an individual. Further, clauses (c) and (d) have been added in sub-section (1) stating that no refund shall be payable to a person during the period the person is not included in the ATL and shall also not be entitled to compensation for delayed refund for the period the person is not appearing in the ATL and such period shall not be counted for the purpose of computing additional payment for delayed refund. For example, a person has outstanding refund for the tax year 2018 but return for the tax year 2019 has not been filed even after expiry of due date. In such a situation neither refund for tax year 2018 shall be issued nor the period shall be counter for compensation for delayed refund for the period the person is not appearing in the ATL."

(c) in the case of a third and subsequent failure, ten thousand rupees."

Penalty to be on 'tax sought to be evaded'.– Following is an extract from CBR's Circular No. 6 of 1987 dated July 5, 1987, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"Until now penalty for concealment of income or furnishing of inaccurate particulars of income was leviable on the amount representing the difference in tax as calculated on the returned income and on the assessed income. In other words, penalty was also imposed in respect of that part of the assessed income which represented additions on account of application of a gross profit rate which is higher than the one declared or additions on account of disallowances, in part or whole, of some items of expenditure in the profit and loss accounts, etc. By an amendment in sub-section (1) of section 111, the penalty under the said section shall now be leviable only with reference to the amount of tax that the tax payer sought to evade by concealment of income or furnishing of inaccurate particulars of income. In other words, for purposes of penalty under section 11, only such income will be taken into consideration which is attributable to concealment of income or furnishing of inaccurate particulars of income by the assessee. The tax on the concealed income will be calculated at the average rate of tax applicable to the total assessed income of the assessee."

Penalty for concealment, reduction in penalty.– Following is an extract from CBR's Circular No. 6 of 1997, dated the 15th July, 1997, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"(i) The penalty for concealment of income or furnishing of inaccurate particulars shall be equal to the tax sought to be evaded."

S. 184(5)–Consequential Relief in Penalty after Appellate Decision.–Following is an extract from FBR's Circular No. 5 of 2008 dated July 05, 2008:-

"Under section 184 of the Ordinance, the income tax authorities are empowered to impose penalty upon a person equal to the amount of tax which the person sought to evade by concealment of income. In some cases the appellate authorities reduce the quantum of concealed income resulting into reduction of tax on such income. However, no provision for consequential relief in the quantum of penalty was available in the Ordinance. So, a new sub-section (5) has been inserted to allow consequential, proportionate reduction in amount of penalty to taxpayers as a result of appellate decision, if required."

Unexplained investments, credits etc.– Following is an extract from Circular No. 7 of 1984, dated July 24, 1984, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"The definition of concealment of income or furnishing of inaccurate particulars has been amended by the addition of a new clause (c) in sub-section (2) of section 111 and all acts referred to in Clauses (aa), (b) (c), (d) or (e) of sub-section (1) of section 13 shall now amount to concealment. Thus if any amount is deemed to be the income of an assessee by virtue of the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 13 as it applies to the aforesaid clauses, the said amount shall be considered as concealed income of the assessee."

Following is an extract from the text of 'Budget Speech 1984-85', explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"At present the value of undeclared assets and unexplained expenditure is treated as income of tax-payer. Since such assets and expenditure actually represent untaxed income, it has been decided that their value shall be treated as concealed income for purposes of the provisions of the Income-tax Law."

Concealment, meaning of.– Following is the text of Circular No. 2 of 1959, dated January 21, 1959, explaining corresponding provisions of the repealed Act, 1922:–

"Some misunderstanding seems to exist regarding the principles governing the imposition of penalty under Section 28(1)(c) of Income-tax Act. Assessment and penalty proceedings stand on two different footings. In a proceeding relating to assessment, the onus is on the assessee to prove that the income returned by him is his true income. In a proceedingfor imposition of penalty for concealment of income, the onus is on the Revenue to establish that the assessee has concealed his income. The well known decision of the House of Lords in Fattorini (Thomas) (Lancashire) Ltd. 1943 Supp.-ITR-50 contains some very pertinent observations on this issue. In course of this judgment Lord Atkin remarked:–

"The section is highly penal and I feel no doubt that the onus is originally and remains on the Revenue to show that the company acted unreasonably."

Another of the law-Lord Wright in his concurring judgment used stronger language and said, "It is obvious that the section is penal in character and in my opinion the onus is finally on the Crown to prove its right to impose what is a very severe penalty. At the end of the day it is for the Crown to establish the fact."

2. The High Courts in this sub-continent have also taken the same view in 1943-ITR-308 Sir Lionel Leach (C.J.) remarked: "The imposition of penalty under Section 28 is not a matter of guess work". In another case it was observed "fraud cannot be presumed. It must be proved".

3. A decision of the Australian High Court contains some very interesting discussion on this issue. It was argued on behalf of the tax payer that a proceeding for the imposition of penalty for concealment of income was in the nature of a criminal proceeding and that the standard of proof which is required in a criminal case should be required here also to sustain an order imposing penalty. Therefore, it should be necessary for the appellate Court to be satisfied beyond reasonable doubt of the guilt of the tax-payer. Dixsen(J) delivering the judgment observed:

"In the view which I have ultimately taken of this case, this question does not appear to be important. But I may say that, in my opinion, the proceeding is civil and not criminal in character. The procedure is by action to recover a penalty and the rules of Civil Procedure apply..... But this, of course, does not affect the position that, when the law requires proof of any fact the tribunal must feel an actual persuasion of its occurrence or existence before it can be found. An intention to defraud the revenue is a seriousness of allegation made or the gravity of the consequences flowing from a particular finding are considerations which must affect answer to the question whether the issue has been proved to the reasonable satisfaction of the tribunal....In such matters reasonable satisfaction should not be produced by inexact proofs, indefinite testimony and indirect inferences."

4. It will thus be seen that all cases where the tax payers version of his profit or income is not accepted do not attract penalty under Section 28(1)(c). In cases of simple cash credit or in cases where the cash credit is co-related with the reasonable profit computed on a flat rate basis, penalty under Section 28 is not ordinarily eligible. For a sound order under Section 28, there must be evidence amounting to proof that the assessee deliberately omitted to account for some of his income or some of his transactions. The Board, therefore, desires that all cases where there is no adequate evidence to prove deliberate suppression of income through a specific transaction, proceedings under Section 28(1)(c) should not be initiated."

[1]Sections 184 to 190 omitted by Finance Act, 2010 dated June 30, 2010.

S. 186 -Omission.-Before omission by Finance Act, 2010 it read as follows:-

"186. Penalty for non-compliance with notice.– (1) A person who, without reasonable excuse, fails to comply with any notice served on the person under section 116 or 176 shall be liable for a penalty equal to–

(a) in the case of the first failure, two thousand rupees;

(b) in the case of a second failure, five thousand rupees; or

(c) in the case of a third and subsequent failure, ten thousand rupees.

(2) Where a person liable for a penalty under sub-section (1) has an assessed tax liability for the tax year in which the failure occurred of less than twenty thousand rupees, the amount of the penalty imposed under sub-section (1) shall be reduced by seventy-five percent."

Penalty on wilful default only.– Following is an extract from Circular No. 2 of 1958 dated March 11, 1958, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1922:–

"In supersession of all previous orders issued on the subject, the Board directs that penalty proceedings under Section 28 of the Income-tax Act should be started only when an Income-tax Officer has fairly strong reasons to believe that there was willful default or deliberate concealment and that such proceedings should be finalised immediately after the assessment is completed without waiting for the disposal of appeal, if any, filed by the assessee against the assessment."

Concealment cases, dealing with assessees.– Following is the text of RCIT Central Region's Circular letter No. 7442-219-5/RC dated March 30, 1986, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"It has come to the notice of this office that certain categories of assessees are not being handled with politeness and courtesy which they deserve. I am, therefore, directed to say that while the Officers must deal firmly with concealment cases, they should, in no circumstances, be impolite while dealing with the individual assessees.

Necessary instructions in this regard may kindly be issued to all Assessing Officers."

S. 185–Failure to maintain accounts.– Following is an extract from CBR's Circular No. 6 of 1997, dated the 15th July, 1997, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"b) Penalty for failure to maintain prescribed accounts. (Section 109).

The penalty for the default has been fixed @15% of the tax payable subject to a minimum of Rs. 2000/-." [Ref:97 ITC 6 p. 6*]

FollowingisthetextofCBR'sLetterC.No. 4(20)DTP/94(D) dated December 31, 1994, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"I am directed to draw your kind attention to the discussion during recent Commissioner's Conference of Northern Region about calculation of penalty under section 108 in the context of Circular No. 6 of 1994 and to say that amounts shown in the Circular were for the sake of initial qualification based on default for various periods, subject to additional liability with reference to the amount of tax. It is reaffirmed that the precise amount of penalty is to be calculated in each case, keeping in view the amount of tax in accordance with the relevant statutory provision i.e.–

(i)	Where period of default does not exceed six weeks:–	Rs. 500/- for each day of default in company cases and Rs. 200 per day in other cases;
(ii)	For the next three weeks.	The amount calculated at (i) above plus Rs. 100/- for each day of default and a further amount equal to 25% of the tax payable;
(iii)	For the next three weeks.	The amount calculated at (ii) above plus Rs.100/- for each day of default and further amount equal to 50% of the tax payable;
(iv)	For the remaining period.	The amount calculated at (iii) above plus Rs. 100/- for each day of default and a further amount equal to the tax payable."

Date of applicability of enhanced penalty.– Following is the text of CBR's Letter C. No. 108(I)DTP-I/94 dated October 18, 1994, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"I am directed to refer to your letter No. SO.II. 50(61)/PAC.Vol.II/94-95/1621 dated October 12, 1994 on the subject and to confirm the interpretation that the amended provisions of section 108 of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979 are applicable to the proceedings relevant to assessment year 1994-95 and onwards."

Failure to maintain prescribed accounts.– Following is an extract from Circular No. 4 of 1979, dated August 23, 1979, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"Under old section 28(1A), the penalty for such default was 150% of the tax payable. It has now been enhanced to 250%. The reason for harsher penalty is that despite levy of penalty @ 150% professionals who were required to maintain prescribed accounts were not maintaining such accounts."

S. 186-Penalty for non-compliance of notice.– Following is an extract from Circular No. 4 of 1979, dated August 23, 1979, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"Under the repealed Act, the only consequence of default of notice issued for filing wealth statement was an ex-parte assessment. This provision did not prove effective. Section 110 now provides for a penalty of 100% of the tax levied.

Further, previously for non-compliance of a notice issued under old Section 22(4) for production of books of accounts etc. the penalty was 100% of the difference between the tax on declared income and the tax assessed. Now for such default (of notice under Section 61), the penalty prescribed is 100% of the tax assessed. The increase in quantum of penalty is due to the fact that earlier penalty did not prove effective enough."

8-139-15-07-2021

However, it was soon realised by CBR that the increase in penalty was not justified. Following is an extract from Circular No. 10 of 1979 dated October 1, 1979, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"Under Section 28(1)(b) of the repealed Act, the penalty for non-compliance of a notice under Section 22(4), 23(2) or 23(3) was 100% of the amount of income tax or super tax which would have been avoided if the income as returned had been accepted as correct income. Under Section 110 of the Ordinance, for the non-compliance of notice under Sections 58, 60 or 61 the penalty leviable can be 100% of the whole amount of the tax. Since the new provision creates difficulty and hardship, a notification under Section 167 has been issued reducing such penalty to 100% of the difference between the income tax and super tax leviable on the income declared and the income assessed."

The above referred Notification is SRO 885(I)/79, dated October 1, 1979, the amendmentwas later incorporated in Finance Ordinance, 1980. The omission of the figure "60" by the Finance Ordinance, 1980 was due to redrafting of sections 60, 61 and 62.

"Section 191 has been amended so that any person who, without reasonable excuse, fails to file return, in response to notice under sub-section (3) of section 117 i.e., where the Commissioner has issued notice for filing of return to a person where the Commissioner has reason to believe that a person has discontinued business or is likely to discontinue, such person shall be treated to have committed an offence punishable on conviction with a fine or imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or both."

S. 191–Prosecution for non-compliance of obligations, substitution of clause (a) of sub-section (1).– Clause (a) before substitution by Finance Act, 2003, read as follows:–

"(a) furnish a return of income as required under section 114 or a wealth statement as required under section 116;"

S. 191–Prosecution for failure to furnish complete withholding statement.- Following is an extract from FBR's Circular No. 9 of 2019 dated July 30, 2019:-

The data contained in the withholding statements is essential for the purpose of expansion of tax base and to verify the declarations filed by the payees i.e. persons whose tax has been collected or deducted. Hence, it is of utmost importance that the withholding agents furnish accurate and complete particulars of persons whose tax has been deducted or collected. Accordingly, a new clause (ca) has been inserted in section 191 according to which any person who, without reasonable excuse, fails to furnish particulars or complete or accurate particulars of persons mentioned in sub-section (1) of section 165 shall commit an offence punishable on conviction with a fine or imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or both. Prior to the Finance Act, 2019, manufacturers, distributors, dealers, wholesalers or commercial importers of electronics, sugar, cement, iron and steel products, motorcycles, pesticides, cigarettes, glass, textile, beverages, paint or foam sectors were not required to give the name, CNIC, NTN and addresses of persons i.e., retailers in the withholding statement filed under section 165 due to clause (81) of Part IV of the Second Schedule. However, the said clause (81) has been omitted through the Finance Act, 2019 and now the particulars mentioned above are required to be completely furnished in the withholding statement as the failure to furnish the same or furnishing incomplete or inaccurate particulars is an offence under clause (ca) of sub-section (1) of section 191 . Similarly, the banking companies were not required to give particulars i.e name, CNIC, NTN and addresses of persons whose tax was deducted under section 231A (on cash withdrawal from bank) and section 151 (profit on debt) as per clause (81A), Part IV of the Second Schedule.

However, the said clause (81A) has been omitted through the Finance Act, 2019 and now the banks are required to furnish the name, CNIC, NTN and addresses of persons in the statement under section 165 of persons whose tax was deducted under section 231A and section 151 as the failure to furnish or to furnish inaccurate or incomplete particulars is a prosecutable offence as per clause (ca) of sub-section (1) of section 191."

This was introduced vide Tax Laws (Amendment) Ordinance, 2021. It was applicable till 30.06.2021. Due to its positive impact, it has been continued. Further, the period of 90 days has been withdrawn. Now the persons buying motor vehicles would be required to get them registered in their own names otherwise, this tax would be collectable."

Additional tax for failure to pay tax or penalty.– Following is an extract from Circular No. 4 of 1979 dated August 23, 1979, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"Under Section 45A of the repealed Act, additional tax was payable in respect of non payment of advance tax under Section 18A or tax deducted under Section 18 alongwith similar additional tax payable under Section 18A(8) and 18(7). No interest would be payable in such case under the new Section 89 of the Ordinance. The other provisions of this new section are same as those of old Section 45A."

Following is an extract from Circular Letter C. No. 6(1)-ITP/3/66, dated April 25, 1966, explaining the provisions of corresponding Section 45A of the repealed Act, 1922:–

"(i) Additional tax under Section 45A is to be paid from the date on which the tax was originally made payable to the date of its actual payment. In case of instalments, the additional tax may be calculated and demanded after the payment of each instalment or more conveniently after all the instalments have been paid.

(ii) Where tax has been stayed till decision of appeal, additional tax is payable only on the amount of tax which is confirmed in appeal and should be charged from the date on which the demand was originally made payable (before the appeal was filed) to the date of its actual payment."

Procedure to be followed.– Following is the text of CBR's Letter C. No. 9(16)Insp/98, dated February 14, 1998, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"It has been observed by the Audit Authorities that at the time of assessment and preparation of IT-30 forms, additional tax is not charged for various defaults under Income Tax Ordinance, 1979. As a result of this lapse on the part of the assessing officers there is huge revenue loss which also creates additional work in the retrieval of the loss.

2. Board's Circular No. 6 of 1991 dated March 18, 1991 is quite clear on the subject. The field officers were required invariably in all the cases to record in the footnote of each assessment order under their signatures that additional tax, leviable under the Ordinance, has been duly charged.

3. It has been noticed that the instructions as contained in the Circular mentioned above and other such instructions on the subject, have not been adhered to in letter and spirit. In the first instance the IACs concerned may be instructed to conduct periodical inspections and intimate the cases where these instructions have not been followed by the assessing officers so that disciplinary proceedings can be initiated against them. Secondly this exercise should be followed more meticulousty by the corporate regions. They should ensure that the formalities in the form and procedure of levy of additional taxes is observed strictly.

4. The additional taxes being charged u/s 87 and 88 should be made a part of the main order and additional taxes u/s 86 and 89 should be regularly charged where ever applicable.

5. The assessing officers should be advised to compute the additional taxes on the IT-30s themselves and not to leave the same on to the Peshi Clerk."

Following is an extract from CBR's Circular No. 6 of 1991 dated March 18, 1991, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"It has been reported by the Audit Authorities that at the time of assessment and preparation of IT-30 Forms additional tax is not charged for various defaults under the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979. This lapse on the part of assessing officers results not only in revenue loss but also creates a lot of additional work involved in its retrieval.

2. It has therefore, been decided that in future all the assessing officers should invariably record in the foot note of each assessment order, under their signatures, that additional tax, leviable under the Ordinance, has been duly charged. If, in any such case, discrepancy in the charging of additional tax is noticed, the Income Tax Officer passing the order will be personally held responsible."

[2][(2) A circular issued by the [1][Board] shall be binding on all Income Tax Authorities and other persons employed in the execution of the Ordinance, under the control of the said Board other than Commissioners of Income Tax (Appeals).]

Additional tax for failure to deduct and pay tax.– Following is an extract of CBR's Circular No. 7 of 1996, dated July 1, 1996, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"According to section 86 of Income Tax Ordinance, 1979, where any person fails to deduct or having deducted, fails to pay/deposit any tax, as required by section 50, such person, without prejudice to any other liability which he may incur, is also liable to pay additional tax on the delayed payment. This provision has been amended through the Finance Act, 1996, as a result of which the rate of additional tax has been increased from 15% to 24% per annum."

S. 206–CBR's circulars, publishing in official Gazette.– Section 20A of the General Clauses Act, 1897, introduced vide General Clauses (Amendment) Ordinance, 2002 dated July 27, 2002, read as follows:–

"20A. Rules and Order*, etc. to be published.– All rules, *Orders, regulations and circulars having the effect of law made or issued under any enactment shall be published in the official Gazette."

*should have been "orders"

S. 206(2) Substitution.– Sub-section (2) before substitution read as follows:–

"(2) A Circular shall be binding on the *Central Board of Revenue, other than the Commissioner (Appeals)."

*This is a serious drafting error as the Circular issued by the CBR should be binding on someone else, as well like the Commissioner and taxation officers.

Following is an extract from 'Notes on Clauses of Finance Bill, 2006':–

"Seeks to make circulars issued by CBR binding on all income tax authorities."

Circulars binding on officers.– Following is an extract from CBR's Circular No. 1 of 2006 dated July 1, 2006:-

"Sub-section (2) of section 206 has been re-written to reiterate, in line with the directions contained in the judgments of the superior courts, that circular issued by the CBR shall be binding on all income tax authorities and other persons employed in the execution of the order under the control of the Board other than CIT (Appeals)."

CBR's circulars, validity of.– Provisions of section 206 give sanctity to CBR's circulars interpreting provisions of law. This somewhat upsets the previous position but upholding the basic concept that these are not binding on appellate authorities and assessees.

The contents of circulars, instructions etc., issued by the Central Board of Revenue from time to time are not binding on the assessees and are merely "orders, instructions and directions" of the CBR to officers and persons employed in the execution of the Ordinance, subject to proviso to Section 8. The exceptions are schemes etc. like the Self Assessment Scheme of Assessment made by the CBR in exercise of the authority conferred on it under Section 59 of the repealed Act.

The most recent view, before the new law, on the validity of CBR's instructions has been expressed by the Supreme Court of Pakistan in a case reported as Central Insurance Co. etc. v. CBR (1993) 68 Tax 86 (S.C. Pak) in the following words:–

"It is evident from the above provisions that though the Central Board of Revenue has administrative control over the functionaries discharging their functions under the Ordinance, but it does not figure in the hierarchy of the forums provided for adjudication of assessee's liability as to the tax. In this view of the matter, any interpretation placed by the Central Board of Revenue on a statutory provisions cannot be treated as a pronouncement by a forum competent to adjudicate upon such a acquisition judicially or quasi-judicially. We may point out that the Central Board of Revenue cannot issue any administrative direction of the nature which may interfere with the judicial or quasi-judicial functions entrusted to the various functionaries under statute. The instructions and directions of the Central Board of Revenue are binding on the functionaries discharging their functions under the Ordinance in view of Section 8 so long as they are confined to the administrative matters. The interpretations of any provisions of the Ordinance can be rendered judicially by the hierarchy of the forums provided for under the above provisions of the Ordinance, namely, the Income Tax Officer, Appellate Assistant Commissioner, Appellate Tribunal, the High Court and this Court, and not by the Central Board of Revenue. In this view of the matter, the interpretation placed by the Central Board of Revenue on the relevant provisions of the Ordinance in the Circular, can be treated as administrative interpretation and not judicial interpretation."

The Indian Courts have expressed a different view as follows:–

(1971) 82 ITR 913 (S.C. India):

"The fact that the proviso to section 10(2)(vib) was incorporated into the Act after the Board issued its instructions cannot affect either the validity of rule 33 or the force of the instructions issued by the Board of Revenue because neither rule 33 nor the instructions issued were strictly in accordance with section 10(2). They merely lay down certain just and fair methods of approach to a difficult problem.

The learned Solicitor-General appearing for the revenue at one stage of his arguments contended that the instructions issued by the Board of Revenue cannot have any binding effect and those instructions cannot abrogate or modify the provisions of the Act. But he did not contend that rule 33 is ultra vires of the Act. The instructions in question merely lay down the manner of applying rule 33. Now, coming to the question as to the effect of instructions issued under section 5(8) of the Act, this Court observed in Navnit Lal C. Javeri v. K.K. Sen, Appellate Assistant Commissioner, Bombay:

"It is clear that a circular of the kind which was issued by the Board would be binding on all officers and persons employed in the execution of the Act under section 5(8) of the Act. This circular pointed out to all the officers that it was likely that some of the companies might have advanced loans to their shareholders as a result of genuine transactions of loans, and the idea was not to affect such transactions and not to bring them within the mischief of the new provision."

The directions given in that circular clearly deviated from the provisions of the Act, yet this Court held that the circular was binding on the Income Tax Officer."

(1982) 136 ITR 652 (H.C. Delhi, India):

"Though the circulars of the Central Board are not binding on the court, yet, in general, circulars are binding on the income tax authorities. Through them, the Board cannot impose a burden on the taxpayer greater than what the statute provides but it can relax the rigour of the law. The Supreme Court has recognized the validity of beneficent circulars and the right of the taxpayer to enforce these and get relief even in court."

8-149-15-07-2020

[1][206A. Advance ruling.– (1) The [2][Board] may, on application in writing by a non-resident taxpayer, issue to the taxpayer an advance ruling setting out the Commissioner's position regarding the application of this Ordinance to a transaction proposed or entered into by the taxpayer.

(2) Where the taxpayer has made a full and true disclosure of the nature of all aspects of the transaction relevant to the ruling and the transaction has proceeded in all material respects as described in the taxpayer's application for the ruling, the ruling is [3][binding] on the Commissioner with respect to the application to the transaction of the law as it stood at the time the ruling was issued.

(3) Where there is any inconsistency between a circular and an advance ruling, priority shall be given to the terms of the advance ruling [4][.]

Violation of administrative instructions.– Following is the text of CBR's Letter C. No. 5(2)/91-AIT.I dated March 9, 1994, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"The Income tax Wing of Central Board of Revenue has been issuing instructions from time to time to enforce administrative discipline in the Department in order to eliminate a variety of irregularities committed by the various functionaries of the Department generally attributed to their personal motives.

2. Of late, CBR has been taking a lenient view on cases where such kind of irregularities were noticed (like fragmentation of refunds, passing orders without certain required approvals etc.) and minor penalties as provided in E&D Rules of 1973 were imposed on the establishment of charges.

3. Now it has been decided by the Competent Authority that hence-forth in all such cases where officers/officials of the Income Tax Department are found ignoring instructions of the Board or their supervisory authorities and act beyond their jurisdiction or commit anything contrary to their assigned duties and laid down functions shall be dealt with severally under E&D Rules, 1973 and major penalty of "Removal from service" shall be imposed.

4. It may also be further clarified that no laxity on any count amounting to misconduct, inefficiency and loss of revenue shall be tolerated.

5. This issues with the approval of the Secretary Revenue Division."

S. 206A–Introducing the concept of advance ruling.– Following is an extract from CBR's Circular No. 7 of 2003 dated July 11, 2003:–

The object is to provide to non-resident companies an advance ruling on disclosures of full facts in the matters on which advance ruling is requested. Such advance rulings would be binding on the Commissioner."

Introduction

With a view to remove any confusion and to avoid disputes in respect of determination of the income tax liability of a non-resident person, a procedure of Advance Rulings has been brought on statute by way of incorporating Section 206A into the Income Tax Ordinance, 2001, w.e.f. 1.7.2003. Through this facility non-residents can obtain, in advance, a binding ruling on the issues that could arise in determining their tax liabilities at a later stage. Therefore, time consuming and expensive legal disputes can be avoided. The Centre Board of Revenue is empowered to determine any question of law or of fact as specified in the application made before it in respect of a transaction which has been undertaken or is proposed to be undertaken by a non-resident in Pakistan on its own or in combine with a resident concern.

The detailed procedures for obtaining an advance ruling are contained in Rule 231A and 231B of the Income Tax Rules, 2002. An application form for the purpose has also been prescribed in Rule 231B, stipulating the information required to be divulged and the documents to be attached.

Composition of the Advance Ruling Committee

The application for advance ruling is considered and decided upon by a committee head by the Chairman, Central Board of Revenue, after giving due opportunity to the applicant of explaining his case. Other members of the committee are Member (Direct Taxes), Central Board of Revenue, and Additional Secretary, Law, Justice, and Human Rights Division, Government of Pakistan.

Procedure

The applicant may seek advance ruling by making an application to the Central Board of Revenue in the prescribed form and manner.

- The application for advance ruling should be presented in the form prescribed for the purpose by the applicant in person or by an authorized representative to the Secretary, International Taxes Operations, Room No. 503, 5th Floor, CBR House, Constitution Avenue, Islamabad.
- The application and the accompanying annexures may be neatly typed on one side of plain paper of A-4 size leaving a minimum margin of 30mm on all the four sides and may be duly indexed. Legible photocopies of the relevant documents may be attached.
- No information as required in the prescribed application form may be withheld. Provision of complete and correct information would help the applicant in getting an early decision.
- The question(s) of law or fact on which advance ruling is sought may be stated clearly in the application using a text box.

Signing of Application

The application, its verification and the annexures, statements and documents accompanying it, are required to be signed by a person competent to do so. Where a person signing the application and other documents claims to have been duly authorized to do so, the application must be accompanied by a power of attorney authorizing him to sign.

Authorized Representative

The applicant is entitled to present his case before the Advance Ruling Committee either personally or through an authorized representative. If the applicant desires to be represented by an authorized representative, a duly authenticated document authorizing him to appear for the applicant should be enclosed.

Payment of Fee

There is no fee for seeking an advance ruling from the Central Board of Revenue.

Withdrawal of application

The applicant may withdraw his application at any time before the ruling is issued.

Advantages of Advance Ruling

- Helps non-residents in planning their income tax affairs well in advance.
- Gives clarity to the local partners of non-residents vis-à-vis their liabilities under the tax laws.
- Brings certainty in determination of the tax liability.
- Helps in avoiding long drawn and expensive litigation.
- It is inexpensive, expeditious and binding.
- Who can seek advance ruling?

Presently, only a non-resident person as defined in the Income Tax Ordinance, 2001, can seek advance ruling.

8-149-15-07-2020

Who is a non-resident person?

- Under the existing scheme of tax laws, the taxable entities are broadly divided into three groups i.e. Individual, Association of Persons, and Company.
- These taxable entities are divided into two categories depending upon their residential status. These categories are :-
- Resident, and
- Non-Resident

  An individual is a resident individual if he is present in Pakistan for a period of, or periods amounting in aggregate to, 182 days or more during the tax year. A company is a resident company for a tax year if it is incorporated or formed by or under any law in force in Pakistan; or the control and management of the affairs of the company is situated wholly in Pakistan at any time during the year. An association of persons is a resident association of persons for a tax year if the control and management of the affairs of the association is situated wholly or partly in Pakistan at any time during the year.

Questions on which advance ruling can be sought

The advance ruling can be sought on any question of law or fact specified in the application in relation to a transaction that has been undertaken, or is proposed to be undertaken, by the non resident applicant.

Time limit for issuing the advance ruling

The advance ruling is required to be issued by the Central Board of Revenue within 3 months of the receipt of a valid application.

Is advance ruling binding?

Advance ruling issued by the Central Board of Revenue is binding in respect of the transaction(s) in relation to which ruling has been sought on the Commissioner and the income tax authorities subordinate to him in respect of the applicant. However, the advance ruling would cease to be binding, if it is subsequently found to have been obtained by fraud or misrepresentation of facts about the nature of the transaction on which advance ruling was issued.

Jurisdiction of Commissioners over companies.– Following is the text of CBR's letter C. No. 2(1)S.Asstt/2002(I) dated May 27, 2003:–

"I am directed to refer to the above subject and to state that as a part of restructuring efforts, it was thought appropriate to harmonize the jurisdiction of Income Tax and Sales Tax Departments. At present on income tax side, the jurisdiction of Public Limited Companies, whether listed or not, is determined on the basis of location of their registered offices. To the contrary, Sales Tax Department assigns jurisdiction on the basis of the location of the business premises.

2. The matter was examined in the Board at length and in concurrence with the Federal Minister for Finance and Revenue, it has been decided that the jurisdiction of company cases in Income Tax and Sales Tax Departments will be as under:–

a) In case of Public Limited Companies, quoted on stock exchange, the jurisdiction shall be determined on the basis of their registered offices;

b) In case of Public Limited Companies, not quoted on stock exchange and Private Limited Companies, the jurisdiction shall be determined, in cases of manufacturers/processors, on the basis of location of their factories and in cases of companies engaged in the business other than manufacturing/ processing, on the basis of location of their business premises. In case of companies conducting manufacturing/processing and other business at more than one place, the jurisdiction shall be assigned on the basis of principal place where such manufacturing/processing and other business is carried on.

3. On the basis of above decision, the earlier jurisdiction order of even number dated 1st July, 2002, has accordingly been amended vide Order of even number dated 27-05-2003 (copy enclosed). This order has been made effective from the first day of July 2003. It is requested that all Zonal CsIT may be advised to identify all such companies whose location of assessments would be affected by the above order. I am further directed to request that for an effective and smooth transfer of all such cases to their new jurisdictions, the RCsIT may closely monitor the whole exercise and ensure that all such cases are transferred by 15-07-2003. A certificate to this effect may also be provided to the Board by the same date."

Following is the text of CBR's ORDER dated May 27, 2003:–

"In exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (1) of Section 209 of the Income Tax Ordinance, 2001, and in partial modification of Board's order of even number dated 1st July, 2002, the Central Board of Revenue is pleased to substitute the "Explanation" as provided at the end of the First Schedule to the above referred order with the following:–

"EXPLANATION:–

The expression "place of business" as used in the Schedule means;

a) In the case of Public Limited Companies, quoted on stock exchange, the "place" where the registered offices of such companies are situated.

b) In the case of other companies;

(i) If the company is primarily engaged in manufacturing or processing, the "place" where the factory is situated;

(ii) If the company is primarily engaged in business other than manufacturing or processing, the "place" where such business is actually carried-on.

Provided that in the case at (b) (i) & (ii) above, if the manufacturing/ processing/other business is carried on at more than one place, the expression "place of business" shall mean the principal place where such manufacturing/ processing/other business is carried on".

2. The above order shall be effective from 01-07-2003."

Following is the text of Letter No. SG/15/235, dated February 10, 1980 from M/s. S. A. Salam & Co., CAs, Lahore, addressed to the Member (Taxes), Central Board of Revenue, Islamabad:–

"In the light of Central Board of Revenue's Notification No. S.R.O. 711(I)/79 dated 4.8.1979 as amended by Notification No. 768(I)/79, dated 30.8.1979, the position of jurisdiction is that:–

(i) Public companies are to be assessed according to the location of their Registered Offices, and

(ii) Private companies are to be assessed according to the location of their "place of business" as defined in the "Explanation" to your Notification.

If the impugned notifications of jurisdiction over companies continue to be effective then there will be great confusion and development of the industry and business will be retarded. In this connection the following points may be stated:–

(i) The registered offices of companies are invariably situated in big cities of Pakistan, like Lahore, Karachi, Hyderabad, Peshawar etc., whereas the factories may be situated in distant places and rural areas. Thus the registered office of a private company may be situated in one province and the factory in another province. To illustrate: A private company having its registered office at Lahore, where all the directors reside, has factories at Abbottabad, Hyderabad and Jhelum. Does it mean that the ITOs of Companies Circles of Peshawar, Hyderabad and Rawalpindi will have jurisdiction over the case?

(ii) For wealth-tax purposes it is the registered office of a company that matters and amendments to this effect have been made to the Wealth-tax Act/Rules, 1963. Therefore, for income-tax assessments too the registered office should be taken into account otherwise a private company, say, will be assessed to wealth-tax at Lahore and assessed to income-tax at Rawalpindi.

(iii) Legally a company is resident where its registered office is located. The situation of registered office or any change therein is to be notified to the Assistant Registrar of Joint Stock Companies under the provisions of the Companies Act, 1913, which does not make any distinction between a private company and a public company as far as provision relating to situation of Registered Office is concerned.

(iv) The development of industry will be retarded especially that of under-developed areas. For instance, according to item 80 of the Second Schedule to the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979, tax holiday for 5 years has been granted in respect of industrial undertakings set up in Baluchistan. One of the conditions is that such an undertaking be owned and managed by a company having its registered office anywhere in Pakistan, whether it is a private or a public company. This clearly means that industrialists who are resident in industrially developed areas of Pakistan should come forward and set up industries in Baluchistan. All such ventures start with the incorporation of a private company especially at Lahore (i.e. in the case of an industrialist from Punjab). According to your Notification the assessment of such a company will be in Karachi. So the industrialist will be controlling the undertaking from Lahore, going to Baluchistan to look after the factory and proceed to Karachi for the income-tax assessment of the company.

(v) The present thinking of the CBR is that the ITO (Companies) nearest to the factory should have the jurisdiction to keep an eye on the "activities" (Para 6 of page 105 "Taxation" Vol. 40, 1979). This is a myth because: (a) All big undertakings which are invariably controlled by public companies have already been excluded, (b) The ITOs, say, of Companies Circles, Lahore, are much nearer to the factories situated between Gujranwala and Lalamusa than the ITOs (Companies) of Rawalpindi who have now been given jurisdiction over private companies and (c) The offices of ITOs of Companies Circles are situated in some big cities only whereas the factories are spread all over Pakistan including distant rural areas.

(vi) It is invariably at the registered office of the company that its office bearers (Directors, Secretary etc), Legal Adviser, Auditors, Income-tax Adviser etc. are available, and the record is also kept there. Going to another city or province for the purpose of tax assessment involves expenditure, inconvenience, waste of time etc. The declared policy of our present Government is to give more facilities to the assessees and not that hurdles should be put in their way.

(vii) For the last 58 years the jurisdiction over companies has been on the basis of their registered offices and this is the position in other countries also.

It is, therefore, requested that time honoured position may be restored and fresh orders of jurisdiction may be issued so that the jurisdiction over companies, whether private or public, is on the basis of situation of their Registered Offices."

Appellate powers to Commissioners.– Following is an extract from CBR's Circular No. 15 of 1980, dated June 26, 1980, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979: –

"In cases selected for detailed scrutiny, the IAC and sometimes the Commissioner is also associated with completion of assessment and often these senior officers approve such orders. Propriety demands that appeals in such cases are also heard by senior officers. Similarly it has since long been represented that in cases where large additions have been made, the A.A.Cs are reluctant to grant relief.

Provision has been made for appointment of Commissioners as appellate authorities. The jurisdiction of these authorities and the date from which it shall be effective shall be notified by the Board."

Following is the text of CBR's Notification No. SRO 1055(I)/99, dated 17th September, 1999, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"In exercise of the powers conferred by clause (a) of sub-section (1) of section 5 of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979 (XXXI of 1979), the Central Board of Revenue is pleased to direct that the Director General of Tax Withholding shall perform the following functions in respect of all persons responsible for deducting or collecting tax and the persons from whom tax is deductible or collectable under section 50 of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

(a) To check, supervise and ascertain, audit and reconcile withholding of taxes.

(b) To adopt ways and means to ensure correct deduction of tax and its timely deposit in the Government Treasury/SBP/NBP and to prevent leakage in respect of withholding taxes.

(c) To educate tax withholding agents and the taxpayers.

(d) To identify and register tax withholding agents under section 143E.

(e) To obtain the prescribed statements of tax withheld and take appropriate action under the law in case of defaulters.

(f) To ensure issuance of deduction certificates by withholding agents to the persons from whom tax is withheld.

(g) To pass orders under section 52 or 52A of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979, and to impose additional tax/penalty and to invoke measures in accordance with law to recover the tax not deducted by withholding agents.

(h) To reconcile the receipts of withholding taxes.

(i) Any other work incidental or necessary for the performance of above functions and to perform such other functions as may be assigned by Central Board of Revenue/Pakistan Revenue Authority."

Determination of jurisdiction of appellate and zonal CITs by RCIT.– The amendment made by Finance Ordinance, 1981 has been explained in Circular No. 7 of 1981, dated July 6, 1981, an extract wherefrom is as follows:–

"The CBR through this amendment has been authorised to delegate its powers, for reasons of administrative convenience, to the Regional Commissioner or the Commissioner to determine the jurisdiction of Appellate Assistant Commissioners."

The amendment made by Finance Act, 1986 has been explained in Circular No. 16 of 1986, dated July 22, 1986 an extract wherefrom, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979, is as follows:–

"(i) Previously, the proviso to clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 5 empowered the Central Board of Revenue to authorise the Regional Commissioners of Income Tax and the Commissioners of Income Tax to determine the jurisdiction of the Appellate Assistant Commissioners. The said proviso has been amended to make the following two changes, namely:–

(a) The Board is now empowered to authorise the Regional Commissioner of Income Tax to also determine the Jurisdiction of the Commissioners of Income Tax exercising the functions of an Appellate Assistant Commissioner [administratively designated as Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals)]

(b) The Commissioners of Income Tax can no longer be authorised by the Board to determine jurisdiction of the Appellate Assistant Commissioners.

(ii) The Central Board of Revenue is empowered to determine the jurisdiction of the Commissioners of Income Tax or to transfer jurisdiction in respect of persons or classes of persons or areas from one Commissioner of Income Tax to another. By addition of a second proviso to clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 5, the Regional Commissioner of Income Tax has been empowered to transfer jurisdiction in respect of cases or persons from one Commissioner sub-ordinate to him to another. However, it may be clarified that the Regional Commissioner cannot transfer jurisdiction in respect of classes of cases or classes of persons or areas."

The CBR vide Notification No. SRO 734(I)/86, dated July 23, 1986, has directed "that the Regional Commissioners of Income Tax shall determine the jurisdiction of Commissioners of Income Tax exercising the powers of an Appellate Assistant Commissioner and the Appellate Assistant Commissioners."

Assessing powers to I.A.C.– Following is an extract from Circular No. 15 of 1980, dated June 26, 1980, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"Under the repealed Act, an IAC could be appointed as an assessing officer in respect of specified cases, classes of cases, persons or classes of persons. These provisions, which did not exist in the Ordinance have been inserted."

Additional Commissioner of Income Tax appointed as 'Special Officer'.– Following is the text of RCIT Central Region's letter No. RCIT/3/88-89/250, dated July 14, 1988, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"A number of Assistant Commissioners have been appointed by the Central Board of Revenue as "Special Officers" for disposal of assessment work. A question has been raised about the I.A.C. in respect of these Special Officers who will be authorised to grant statutory approvals.

Legally, a Special Officer is included in the definition of the Income Tax Officer under section 2(25) of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979. There is no qualification about the status of the person appointed as Special Officer. Therefore, whatever the status of the person, he will be subordinate to an I.A.C. The Commissioners should, therefore, assign cases to the Special Officer and place him under the supervision of an I.A.C. who will be granting all the statutory approvals required in respect of those cases.

The position of an I.A.C. acting as Income Tax Officer under the provisions of section 5(1)(c) is totally different. In their case the Ordinance specifically requires that the Commissioner shall act as I.A.C. There is no such provision in the case of the Special Officer."

Approval power to RCIT.– Following is an extract from Circular No. 7 of 1984, dated July 24, 1984, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"In the matter of granting approval under Clause (c) of Sub-section (1) of Section 5, the Central Board of Revenue may now authorise the Regional Commissioner to exercise this power."

Creation of Income Tax Panels.– For the abolished I.T. panel system of assessment, please see CBR's (i) Circular No. 20 of 1988 dated October 8, 1988 (ii) Circular Letter C. No. ITO-3(3)/88 dated October 12, 1988 (iii) Circular No. 2 of 1989 dated January 12, 1989 (iv) Circular Letter C. No. ITO-3(3)/88 (Cir-8) and Circular Letter C. Re-organisation of Income Tax Department.– Following is the text of CBR's Circular Letter C. No. 3681-C(DTA)/93 dated February 19, 1994, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"In order to make arrangements for proper administration of different taxes and adequate utilization of information generated through capital value tax for the purpose of extending tax net of income tax and wealth-tax to new tax-payers, it has been decided to make marginal expansion and reorganization in the Income Tax Department.

1. PURPOSE OF REORGANIZATION:

Following are the purposes among others:–

(a) To provide facilities to the tax-payers through one window service;

(b) To broaden tax base of both Income Tax and Wealth tax;

(c) To improve quality of orders passed by officers;

(d) To streamline recovery of capital value tax and strengthen collections and deductions at source; and

(e) To properly monitor and control performance of subordinate offices.

2. METHODOLOGY TO BE ADOPTED:

(a) Functions of wealth-tax, income tax and capital value tax will be merged with the same office. This will facilitate the public as well as the tax department in extending the tax net;

(b) Existing work force in the functional zones i.e. Survey and Registration and Wealth-tax zones will also be utilized for the purposes of assessment and collection etc. of all direct taxes;

(c) Jurisdiction will be assigned on territorial basis except in respect of classes of persons who are essentially registered with some authority so as to ensure that all persons of that class are on our tax record. A few classes of persons of this type may be advocates, doctors, Chartered Accountants etc;

(d) An effort has to be made to place an assessing officer as near to the tax payer as possible and similarly supervisory officer would be stationed close to the assessing officer;

(e) At Lahore and Karachi one Range at each station shall be dealing with the functions of internal survey, matching of information with tax records and monitoring of withholding taxes in respect of these stations only. In territorial zones the Commissioners will have a cell of Inspectors headed by a staff officer attached with him to deal with the functions of internal survey at the headquarters, matching of information with the tax records and monitoring proper utilization of information as received from different quarters. The Commissioner may utilize this cell for the purpose of administering withholding taxes at the headquarters only, whereas such monitoring of taxes in Mufassil areas will be responsibility of the assessing officer having jurisdiction over the territory;

(f) Powers of Tax Recovery Officer may be exercised by the assessing officer himself. Whereas the Commissioner may at his discretion deviate from this policy at headquarters of Ranges or the Zone, the officers in Mufassil areas will in any case be exercising the powers as TROs as well;

(g) Work load of the assessing officers will be rationalized and it is proposed that:–

(i) a company circle may have 150 live company cases alongwith the cases of their Directors;

(ii) a non-company circle may have maximum 2000 live cases;

(iii) the salary circle may have 3000 to 5000 live cases but the number of cases may go upto say 8000, if the assessment is made through computerisation; and

(iv) Every zone may have one special circle dealing with not more than 50 complicated cases specially assigned to this circle.

(h) The officers will be responsible for revenue targets of each tax separately. Targets for officers will be rationally fixed by the Commissioner.

3. ORGANIZATION OF HEADQUARTERS OF A TERRITORIAL ZONE:

CIT AND CWT

Special Assistant (BS-17, 18)	Staff Officer (BS-16, 17)	Admn. Officer (BS-16).
– Judicial Branch	Cell of Inspectors	– Administration
– Inspection Branch.	– Internal Survey	– Expenditure Budget
– Revenue Budget and Statistical branch	– Matching of Information, – Withholding taxes.

4. PROPOSED REORGANIZATION:

On the basis of these criteria, 28 revenue zones, 24 appellate zones and 4 offices of Appellate Additional Commissioners are being re-organized. Administrative orders have been issued regarding creation/redesignation of new zones and Appellate offices (Annex-I). Jurisdiction to be exercised by these authorities has been notified separately (Annex-II). The Regional Commissioners may balance work-load of different Zones while exercising powers vested in them under second proviso to clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 5 of the Income Tax Ordinance. Annex-III to this letter gives the locations where the ranges headquarters and circles offices will be situated in respect of each zone. The jurisdiction order has been so framed that it does not break a circle and therefore there would practically be no shifting of income tax records. Wealth-tax papers will have to be shifted to the relevant income tax authority in cases of Muffassil areas and also in big towns as well if the CWT decides to immediately assign jurisdiction over wealth-tax cases to the relevant income tax authority.

Annex-IV to this letter indicates sanctioned strength of each zones. It may be appreciated that sanctioned strength of the officers in each zone is in-variably more than the present working strength and the assessment & recovery job which is presently distributed among the working strength will not be disturbed at all. Efforts are being made to recruit/promote and train officers in order to fill in the vacant posts as early as possible & their services may be utilized in such a manner that they become a source of strength & not a source of disturbance to the organization. Partial adjustments in jurisdiction as envisaged in Para 2 may be started/made forthwith and gradually enlarged so that the complete scheme of reorganization become fully operative w.e.f. 1.7.1994.

5. SENIORITY LIST/RECRUITMENT AND PROMOTION OF STAFF AND DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS.

Every revenue Commissioner will maintain seniority list of staff posted in his zone or with the appellate authorities or other income tax offices situated in his territorial jurisdiction. While constituting departmental selection or promotion committees for different cadres of the staff, the said Commissioner will ensure representation of other offices as well on these committees. At Lahore and Karachi which are multizonal/office stations, combined seniority list will be maintained by the regional offices in respect of staff posted in all the zones or with the appellate authorities or other income tax offices situated within the territorial jurisdiction of the Commissioners at the respective stations. Departmental selection committees (DSCs) and departmental promotion committees (DPCs) for different cadres will be so constituted that all zones/offices at the respective station are duly represented in one or the other committee. CONSTITUTION OF DSCS AND DPCS FOR DIFFERENT CADRES HAS TO BE APPROVED BY THE SECRETARY REVENUE DIVISION. PROPOSALS IN THIS REGARD NOMINATING OFFICERS BY DESIGNATION MAY BE SENT TO THE BOARD IMMEDIATELY.

For the purposes of Efficiency and Discipline Rules, every zone and the regional office shall be construed to be a department with the relevant officers functioning as Authorised Officers or Authorities, as the case may be. Also for the financial matters each zone/Regional office will be a department, with the Commissioner/Regional Commissioner having all the powers as exercisable by a head of the department.

6. THINGS TO DO:

Necessary arrangements including the following for establishing the required offices are to be completed expeditiously by the present RCsIT/CsIT who have been given charges/additional charges for the time being:–

(i) The sanctioned strength of each Zone as given in Annex-IV, on the basis of definite formula for each office may be provided to each office. While sanctioning posts we have tried to provide one post each of Armed guard, Chowkidar, Mali and sweeper for each building, which may be distributed accordingly.

(ii) New respectable buildings for the purposes of offices are to be acquired on rent;

(iii) Intentions of the staff members are to be ascertained regarding their choice of zones in which they want to be included so that they are accommodated in accordance with their choice as far as possible. Where it is absolutely not possible to accommodate staff in accordance with the choice as far as possible. Where it is absolutely not possible to accommodate staff in accordance with the choice Zone/cadre, then junior members of the staff are to be disturbed. Seniority lists of officials may accordingly be compiled by every CIT/RCIT., on the basis of dates of joining of the members in their respective grades.

(iv) Vacancies of staff in different cadres may be calculated on revenue zonal basis as discussed at S. No. 5 above and necessary steps may be taken for filling in the posts before May, 1994 through promotion, transfer or recruitment as prescribed in the relevant schemes.

(v) Jurisdiction orders may be prepared in line with the methodology as at S. No. 2 above. However, for the time being these jurisdictions orders may have some deviations which are considered inevitable so as to avoid massive transfer of records but with effect from July 1, 1994, there will be no deviation in jurisdiction order from the methodology given at S. No. 2 above.

(vi) Annex-V indicates code numbers assigned to different Zones. These may be given wide publicity."

Following is the text of CBR's Letter No. 7(8)DT-14/94 dated May 16, 1994, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"As you are aware the department has been recently reorganized with a view to merge certain vital functions in once office. The objective was twofold-(a) the convenience of the taxpayer and (b) improvement in efficiency and consequent enhancement in revenue. The Deputy commissioner of Income Tax would therefore be responsible for the administration of the Income Tax, Wealth Tax and Capital Value Tax within his territorial jurisdiction. The restruction of the Department has made it possible for him to keep a close watch on the growth of Incomes and assets within the area assigned to him. This would however not be without corresponding accountability. The Deputy Commissioner would be held responsible for the level of assessed incomes proper taxation of Wealth particularly in the form of commercial buildings, luxury houses expensive cars and others manifestation of conspicuous consumption. Besides his response to taxable events occurring within his jurisdiction would also be measured and the officer would be responsible for persons who do not file their return although they are otherwise liable to tax.

2. The above mentioned tasks offer a formidable challenge particularly in view of the ever increasing budget targets. It is a situation where we have to prove our metal. I am quite clear that the very high targets that the government has set for us cannot be achieved with the administrative style that we have followed in the past years to requires re-thinking and a totally new approach. The government has provided us most of the resources that we needed and it is now our turn to go ahead with the task with all the energy and zeal.

3. I, strongly urge you to make the best use of the time available till the commencement of next financial year and devise specific strategy for achievement of the objectives that you are expected to realise in the next fiscal year.

4. I would be meeting you more frequently in the next month to discuss these matters and to review the progress made in this direction."

S. 211–Delegation, substitution.– Section 211 before substitution by Finance Ordinance, 2002, read as follows:–

Service of Notice.– Following is the text of RCIT, Eastern Region, Lahore's Letter No. RCIT/J/S/154/SO-II/3544, dated November 4, 1996, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"A notice under the Ordinance may be served on the person therein named either by post or in the manner provided for service of a summon issued by a Court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. In the CBR Circular No. 20(33) IT-3/73, dated May 5, 1973 relevant rules of the CPC were reproduced for guidance of the officers. Now an amendment has been made in the Order V of Civil Procedure Code 1908 through the Act of 1994, which has gone unnoticed. Therefore, it would be appropriate that salient point of the intact and amended CPC are again explained for guidance of assessing officers. The following modes of service have been recognized by the Civil Procedure Code.

1. Service on the person named in the notice or his authorized agent or adult male member of the family residing with the person named in the notice.

2. Service by post. In the Income Tax Ordinance the word "post" only has been used whereas in the Code the words of "registered post, acknowledgement due" has been used. As per Rule 10-A(2) even refusal to receive notice, endorsed by postal employee is deemed as service.

3. Service by affixture by the serving officer when there is refusal to accept service or person cannot be found.

8-184-10-07-2025

4. Amended Rule 20 of the CPC regarding "substituted service" is reproduced as under:

"Rule 20. Substituted Service – (1) Where the Court is satisfied that there is reason to believe that the defendant is keeping out of the way for the purpose of avoiding service, or that for any other reason the summons cannot be served in ordinary way, the Court shall order for service of summons by–

(a). affixing a copy of the summons at some conspicuous part of the house, if any in which the defendant is known to have last resided or carried on business or personally worked for gain; or

(b). any electronic device of communication which may include telegram, telephone, phonogram, telex, fax, radio and television; or

(c). urgent mail service or public courier services; or

(d). beat of drum in the locality where the defendant resides; or

(e). publication in press; or

(f). any other manner or mode as it may think fit; Provided that the Court may order the use of all or any of the aforesaid manners and modes of service simultaneously; and

(2). Service substituted by order of the Court shall be as effectual as if it had been made on the defendant personally.

(3). Where service is substituted by order of the Court, the Court shall fix such time for appearance of the defendant as the case may require which shall not ordinarily exceed fifteen days."

It is note worthy that for upholding the validity of service of notice at appellate stage it is essential that the order sheet entry should not only indicate the order for making substituted service but should also record reason for resorting to this mode."

Instructions re: service of notices.– Following is the text of RCIT Central Region, Lahore's Circular No. 9 of 1987 dated March 31, 1987, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"It has been brought to my notice by the Legal Advisers that very often where the service of notice on the assessee is contested by the assessees in appeal, the record shows just two signatures on the office-copy of the notice: one by the assessee and the other by the notice server, and it is often not clear who is the assessee and who is the process server. In such circumstances, it is difficult to defend proper service of notice before the Court.

The proper course should be that the Notice server should briefly state that the notice has been served on such and such person and then he should sign it and affix his designation with his name and date. In any case every Notice Server should write his designation with his name.

In case the notice is served by affixture, the official serving the notice should record the complete particulars of the witnesses whose signatures are obtained."

S. 221(1)–Rectification of mistakes where no order is passed.– Following is an extract from Circular No. 4 of 1979, dated August 23, 1979, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"The provisions of this section are same as those of the old Section 35. There had been persistent complaints that mistakes brought to the notice of income tax authorities were not rectified over long periods causing unnecessary hardship to the assessees. A provision has been made in sub-section (3) that where no order is passed on any mistake brought to the notice of an income tax authority by the end of the financial year next following the date on which it was brought to its notice, the mistake sought to be rectified shall be deemed to have been so rectified. For example if no order is passed on an application made on 1-1-1979 by 30-6-1980 the mistake shall be deemed to have been rectified as on 1-7-1980 even if the application had no merit."

8-184-10-07-2025

219. Tax or refund to be computed to the nearest Rupee.– In the determination of any amount of tax or refund payable under this Ordinance, fractions of a rupee less than fifty paisa shall be disregarded and fractions of a rupee equal to or exceeding fifty paisa shall be treated as one rupee.

220. Receipts for amounts paid.– The Commissioner shall give a receipt for any tax or other amount paid or recovered under this Ordinance.

221. Rectification of mistakes.– (1) The Commissioner, the Commissioner (Appeals) or the Appellate Tribunal may, by an order in writing, amend any order passed by [1][him] to rectify any mistake apparent from the record on [2][his or its] own motion or any mistake brought to [2][his or its] notice by a taxpayer or, in the case of the Commissioner (Appeals) or the Appellate Tribunal, the Commissioner.

[3][(1A) The Commissioner may, by an order in writing, amend any order passed under the repealed Ordinance by the Deputy Commissioner, or an Income Tax Panel, as defined in section 2 of the repealed Ordinance to rectify any mistake apparent from record on his own motion or any mistake brought to his notice by a taxpayer and the provisions of sub-section (2), sub-section (3) and sub-section (4) shall apply in like manner as these apply to an order under sub-section (1).]

(2) No order under sub-section (1) which has the effect of increasing an assessment, reducing a refund or otherwise applying adversely to the taxpayer shall be made unless the taxpayer has been given a reasonable opportunity of being heard.

Earlier, vide Notification No. SRO 633(I)/2002 dated September 14, 2002 issued u/s 240, it was provided that in making any assessment for the year beginning on the first day of July 2002 or making any deduction or collection of tax for the year beginning on the first day of July 2002, the Ordinance shall have effect as if after sub-section (1), sub-section (1A), as under, was inserted,:–

"(1A) The Commissioner may amend by an order in writing, any order passed under the repealed Ordinance by the DCIT, or an Income Tax Panel, as defined in section 2 of the repealed Ordinance.".

This notification was later rescinded by Notification No. SRO 608(I)/2003, dated June 24, 2003.

Disposal of applications u/s 221.– Following is the text of CBR's Letter C. No. 4(6) IT.3/88 dated February 17, 1991, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"I am directed to say that inordinate delay in passing rectification orders, wherever called for, not only irritates the tax payers but also proves to be a hurdle in clearance of tax liabilities, issuance of refunds etc. Although the statutory provisions require passing of an order on an application for rectification by the end of the financial year next following the year in which such application is received, yet it is not necessary that such order must be delayed till that date.

2. It is requested that field officers may be directed to speedily dispose of applications for rectification. For ensuring the same, regular inspections by the concerned IACs and also recording of reasons for pendency of such applications beyond three months, may be considered."

(3) Where a mistake apparent on the record is brought to the notice of the Commissioner [1][or] Commissioner (Appeals) [2][ ], as the case may be, and no order has been made under sub-section (1) before the expiration of the financial year next following the date on which the mistake was brought to their notice, the mistake shall be treated as rectified and all the provisions of this Ordinance shall have effect accordingly.

(4) No order under sub-section (1) may be made after five years from the date of the order sought to be rectified.

222. Appointment of expert.– [3][(1)] The Commissioner may appoint any expert as the Commissioner considers necessary for the purposes of this Ordinance, including for the purposes of audit or valuation.

S. 221(1A)–Allowing the Commissioner to rectify orders passed under the repealed Ordinance.– Following is an extract from CBR's Circular No. 7 of 2003, dated July 11, 2003:–

"The Commissioner has been empowered to rectify mistake apparent from record where an order under the repealed Ordinance was passed by the Deputy Commissioner of Income Tax or the Income Tax Panels. For this purpose sub-section (1A) has been inserted in section 221 restricting powers to rectify the order on account of a mistake apparent from the record within the period specified in the said section and requirement of issuing a notice where rectification is to result in increase of assessment, reduction in refund or otherwise applies adversely to the taxpayer."

Scope of section 221.– Following are extracts from Circular No. 10 of 1960, dated July 14, 1960, explaining the corresponding provisions of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"The Board have noticed that some officers give a very narrow meaning to Section 35 of the Income-tax Act. They think that only mistakes apparent on the face of the records and errors of clerical or arithmetical nature can be rectified under Section 35. This is wrong. Section 35 is much wider in its application."

"Equally wide meaning was given to the Section by the Supreme Court of India in M.K. Vankatachalam, Income tax Officer and another vs. Bombay Dying & Manufacturing Company Limited-1958(34)-ITR-143-Gajengragadkar (J) who delivered judgment of the Supreme Court remarked "If a mistake of fact apparent from the record of assessment order can be rectified under Section 35, we see no reason why a mistake of law which is glaring and obvious cannot be similarly rectified."

"The Board directs that these instructions should be carefully studied by all Officers of the Department. They should not hesitate to make proper use of Section 35 in all cases calling for action under this section and not only in cases where the mistakes 'apparent from the record' are against the revenue."

Com/B.B.A (Second Class) or ACMA (Part-III), apprenticeship with a senior ITP/Accountant (of at least 10 years standing) for a minimum period of 6 months is also being prescribed. S. 224–Judicial proceedings, sections of the Pakistan Penal Code.– Sections 193 and 228 of the Pakistan Penal Code, 1860 referred to in Section 224 above are reproduced hereunder:–

"193. Punishment for false evidence.– Whoever intentionally gives false evidence in any stage of a judicial proceeding, or fabricates false evidence for the purposes of being used in any stage of a judicial proceeding, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to seven years, and shall also be liable to fine; and whoever intentionally gives or fabricates false evidence in any other case, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to three years, and shall also be liable to fine.

Explanation 1– A trial before a Court-martial is a judicial proceeding.

Explanation 2– An investigation directed by law preliminary to a proceeding before a Court of Justice, is a stage of a judicial proceeding, though that investigation may not take place before a Court of Justice.

Illustration.– A, in an enquiry before a Magistrate for the purpose of ascertaining whether Z ought to be committed for trial makes on oath a statement which he knows to be false. As this enquiry is a stage of a judicial proceeding, A has given false evidence.

Explanation 3.– An investigation directed by a Court of Justice according to law, and conducted under the authority of a Court of Justice, is a stage of a judicial proceeding, though that investigation may not take place before a court of Justice.

8-159-15-07-2021

226. Computation of limitation period.– In computing the period of limitation, there shall be excluded–

(a) in the case of an appeal or an application under this Ordinance, the day on which the order complained of was served and, if the taxpayer was not furnished with a copy of the order when the notice of the order was served on the taxpayer, the time requisite for obtaining a copy of such order; and

[1][(b) in the case of an assessment or other proceeding under this Ordinance,-

(i) the period, if any, for which such proceedings were stayed by any Court, Appellate Tribunal or any other authority; or

(ii) the period, if any, for which any proceeding for the tax year remained pending before any Court, Appellate Tribunal [2][, Alternate Dispute Resolution Committee (ADRC)] or any other authority.]

[2]Words inserted by Finance Act, 2025 in force from 1 July, 2025.

S. 226(b)-Substitution- Before substitution by Finance Act, 2010 it read as follows:-

(b) in the case of an assessment or other proceeding under this Ordinance, the period, if any, for which such proceedings were stayed by [1][any Court, [2]/Appellate/ Tribunal or any other authority].

[1]Substituted for "the Commissioner (Appeals), the Tribunal or any Court" by Finance Ordinance, 2002 dated June 15, 2002.
[2]Word inserted by Finance Act, 2003, dated June 17, 2003.

S. 226–Limitation where a stay has been granted.– Following is the text of RCIT Central Region, Lahore's letter No. 3252 dated December 30, 1986, explaining the corresponding provisions of Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"On a petition filed by the assessee, the Hon'ble High Court sometimes stays the assessment/re-assessment proceedings under the Ordinance. Article 199(4A) of the Constitution places a limit on the period of operation of such order. The relevant provision is as under:–

199(4A) "An interim order made by a High Court on an application made to it to question the validity or legal effect of any order made, proceeding taken or act done by any authority or person which relates to, or is connected with assessment or collection of public revenue shall cease to have effect on the expiration of a period of six months following the day on which the order is made unless the case is finally decided, or the interim order is withdrawn by the Court earlier."

2. As is evident from the provision, unless the case is finally disposed of or the stay order is withdrawn by the High Court earlier, such an order automatically expires after expiry of six months from the date of the order and in such a case no formal order by the High Court is required.

3. Whereas such a stay order poses no problem in the case of collection of tax except that the recovery is postponed during the period of stay, it does create complication in the matter of assessment or re-assessment etc. These proceedings are governed by the provisions of limitation stipulated in section 64, 65, 66, 66A, 156 etc. Action under all these sections is to be completed within a stipulated period. A stay by the High Court interrupts the period of limitation.

8-184-10-07-2025

227. Bar of suits in Civil Courts.– [1][(1)] No suit or other legal proceeding shall be brought in any Civil Court against any order made [2][or any notice issued] under this Ordinance, and no prosecution, suit or other proceedings shall be made against any person for anything which is in good faith done or intended to be done under this Ordinance or any rules or orders made [2][or any notice issued] thereunder.

[3][Explanation.- For the removal of doubt, it is clarified that Civil Court includes any court exercising power of the civil court.]

[4][(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force, no investigation or inquiry shall be undertaken or initiated by any governmental agency against any officer or official for anything done in his official capacity under this Ordinance, rules, instructions or direction made or issued there-under without the prior approval of the Board.]

4. Under Section 160(b) of the Ordinance as well as section 15(1) of the Limitation Act, while computing the period of limitation, the period beginning on the date of Stay Order and ending on the date of vacation (both dates included) would be excluded. For example, where the limitation was to expire on 30.6.1986 and the stay order was made on 15.4.1986 and vacated on 25.4.1986, the limitation would now expire on 11.7.1986.

5. In a case where a notice under section 65 is served on say 15.4.1985, the limitation for completion of assessment expires on 30.6.1986. In case the High Court stays the proceedings say on 10.7.1985 and the stay is not cancelled by the High Court, it would automatically cease to be effective after expiry of 6 months i.e. 9.1.1986. The period of limitation in this case would expire on 1-1-1987 (Adding six calendar months + the date of order to 30.6.1986).

6. The assessing Officers are directed to keep a watch on cases where assessment/ re-assessment proceedings etc. are stayed by the High Court in order to preclude the possibility of the action getting barred by time."

S. 226-Computation of Limitation Period.- Following is an extract from FBR's Circular No. 10 of 2010 dated July 16, 2010:-

"Clause (b) of section 226 of the Income Tax Ordinance, 2001 has been substituted to provide for exclusion of the period from the period of limitation for assessment purposes, for which proceedings for a taxpayer remained stayed or pending before any Court, Appellate Tribunal or any other authority."

Div. II, Part I.-Tax Rates for Banking Companies.- Following is an extract from FBR's Circular No. 15 of 2022, dated 21 July, 2022, explaining the amendment:-

"Tax rates for banking companies are enhanced as explained hereunder:

(i) The taxable income arising from additional income of banking companies earned from additional investment in Federal Government securities for tax year 2020 and 2021 was taxable at the rate of 37.5% instead of rates provided in Division II of Part I of First Schedule. This provision was further amended through Finance Act, 2021, whereby income attributable to investment in the Federal Government securities of banking companies was made taxable on the basis of advances to deposit ratios at graduated tax rates of 40%, 37.5% and 35%, if ratio was upto 40%, 40-50% and above 50% respectively.

The Finance Act, 2022 has introduced enhanced rates of tax on taxable income of banks attributable to investment in Federal Government securities. The enhanced rates for tax year 2022 are 55%, 49% and 35% if gross advances to deposit ratio was upto 40%, 40-50% or above 50% respectively. For tax year 2023, and onwards tax rates will be 55%, 49% and 39% if gross advances to deposit ratio is upto 40%, 40 -50% or above 50% respectively. The changes have been incorporated by substituting sub-rule (6A) of rule 6C of Seventh Schedule to the Ordinance.

(ii) The tax rate on income of banking companies has been enhanced to 39% for tax year 2023 from current 35% through amendment in Division II of Part I of First Schedule of the Ordinance. Additionally, the application of section 4B has been restricted upto tax year 2022 in case of banking companies."

Division II(ii)-Omission-Before omission by Finance Act, 2008 it read as follows:-

(ii)	Income attributable to turnover exceeding Rs.350 million but does not exceed Rs.500 million	30% plus
(iii)	On the income attributable to turnover exceeding Rs.500 million.	35% plus"

Banking companies.- Following is an extract from FBR's Circular No. 02 of 2021 dated July 01, 2021:-

"The income of banking companies earned from additional investment in federal government securities for tax year 2020 and onwards was taxable at the rate of 37.5% instead of rates provided in Division II of Part I of First Schedule. This provision has been further streamlined for prospective application. For tax year 2022 and onwards, the income arising from federal government securities shall be taxable on the basis of advances to deposit ratios of banks as under:

(i) 40% instead of rate provided in Division II of Part I of the First schedule if advances to deposit ratio as on last day of the tax year is upto 40%

(ii) 37.5% instead of rate provided in Division II of Part I of the First schedule if the advances to deposit ratio as on last day of the tax year exceeds 40% but does not exceed 50%

(iii) at the rates provided in Division II of Part I of the First schedule if advances to deposit ratio as on last day of the tax year exceeds 50%.

The amendments would reduce disputes regarding the calculation of additional investment and additional earning. Furthermore, the cut off rate to calculate advances to deposit ratio has been specified as last day of tax year. These changes have been incorporated by amending Rule 6C of the Seventh Schedule."

Cl. (66)-Restructuring of Entitlement to Exemption.- Following is an extract from FBR's Circular No. 1 of 2025-26 dated August 02, 2025:- [clause (66) part I of second schedule]

"Previously, the entities representing institutions, foundations, societies, boards, trust and funds were classified into two broad categories. The Table l, entities enjoyed complete exemption on their any income for a tax year and entities in Table II were given the same privilege subject to such conditions and limitations as specified in section 100C of the Ordinance.

Through Finance Act, 2025 both the Tables have been reorganized to do away with blanket exemptions unless there are any rational basis. Consequently, the entities with whom Government of Pakistan have entered into a sovereign agreement and those which have been established for carrying out the purposes of Government of Pakistan would continue to the entitlement of un-conditional exemption on their any head of income and have been placed under clause (57) of Part I of the Second Schedule to the Ordinance.

The rest of the entities, which have characteristics of Non-Profit Organization, are placed in a single Table and that table continues to be part of clause (66) of Part I of the Second Schedule and these will be entitled to hundred percent tax credit on their any income subject to the conditions and limitations as specified in section 100C of the Ordinance."

FEBCs, profit after June 30, 2001.– Following is the text of CBR's Circular Letter C. No. 3(11)TP-I/89, dated July 27, 2002, explaining the corresponding provision of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979:–

"Consequent to Omission of clause (171) of Part-I of the Second Schedule and Section 50(5B) of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979, references have been received in the Board seeking clarification regarding taxability of profit receivable on FEBCs after 30-6-2001.

The matter has been examined in the Board. The legal position is as under:–

(a) FEBCs are government securities and issued under FEBCD Rules 1985 which were made in exercise of the powers conferred by Section 28 of the Public Debt Act, 1944.

(b) Section 17(2)(a) of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979 provides that where any security of the Federal Government is issued with the condition that interest thereon shall not be liable to tax, the interest receivable on such security shall be exempt from tax in accordance with such condition.

(c) Rule 11 of the said rules states that profit earned on these certificates is not liable to Income Tax. This rule is still intact and no amendment has been made till date.

3. In view of the above legal position it is clarified that encashment proceeds of FEBCs after 30-6-2001 shall continue to be exempt from Withholding Tax and profit receivable shall also be exempt till encashment according to rule 11 of FEBCD Rules, 1985 read with section 17(2)(a) of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979."

Cl. (3A)-Rebate For Teachers And Researchers Posted In Government Institutions.– Following is an extract from CBR's Circular No. 1 of 2006 dated July 1, 2006:–

"Full time teachers or researchers employed in non-profit education or research institutions including Government training and research institution duly recognized by a Board of Education, a University or Higher Education Commission enjoy a special tax rebate of 75%.

Previously, the law provided that Government Training and Research Institutions are also required to be recognized from HEC for such reduction in tax liability. Whereas the ground reality is that Government Training and Research Institutions are invariably not subject to recognition by the HEC or by any University. In order to encourage teachers and researchers posted in such institutions, law has been suitably amended to extend similar tax reduction to them as well."

Cl. (3A)-Tax Rebate to Full-Time Teachers and Researchers.– Following is an extract from FBR's Circular No. 1 of 2025-26 dated August 02, 2025:– [clause (3A) of Part III]

The tax rebate of 25% against tax payable by full-time teachers or researchers was admissible up to tax year 2022 under omitted sub-clause (2) of clause (1) of Part III of Second Schedule to the Income Tax Ordinance, 2001. No rebate was therefore available to full-time teachers and researchers for tax year 2023 and onwards.

Amendment has been incorporated in the Ordinance through Finance Act, 2025, whereby 25% tax rebate to full time teachers and researchers has been reintroduced by way of inserting a new clause (3A) in Part III of the Second Schedule of the ordinance. The said amendment allowed the tax rebate to these persons for three tax years only mentioned above and will no longer be available for tax year 2026 and onwards."

Clause (4)-Tax on import of old and used vehicles. Following is the text of letter dated December 20, 2004 from M/s. S.A. Salam & Co., CAs, addressed to the Chairman CBR:–

"Please refer to your Notification SRO 932(I)/2004 dated November 20, 2004

(Customs) which provides for a consolidated taxes package for customs duty, sales tax, income tax and CVT on import of old and used vehicles. This has been followed by separate income tax and CVT through issue of SROs 977(CVT) and 981(Income Tax), both dated December 10, 2004. Similar separate or double charge does not appear to have been made so far for sales tax. The latter SROs do not supersede SRO 932, rather these refer to SRO 932 as if issued in furtherance thereof.

Thus an anomalous and conflicting situation has been created by issue of SROs 977 and 981. The SRO 932 clearly spelt out the total amount of duty and taxes as may have been decided by the Government while the subsequent SROs seek to enhance the taxes or at least confuse the importer and tax collector as to the total tax payable on import of such vehicles.

It is therefore requested that the position may kindly be clarified."

Cl. (36A)-Capping of maximum tax rate at 10% for profit on pensioner's benefit scheme and behbood fund.-Following is the extract from FBR's Circular No. 5 of 2008 dated July 05, 2008:-

"Under clause (36A) of Part IV of the 2nd Schedule to the Ordinance, no tax is deducted from profit paid on investment in Pensioner's Benefit Scheme and Behbood Fund. However, the income earned therefrom is chargeable to tax at normal rates which may go upto 20% of the profit. Profit on debt on investment schemes of CDNS as well as bank deposits is subject to withholding tax @ 10% as final tax. This anomalous position for pensioners and senior citizens could not be the intention of the legislature, which existed, due to ambiguity in the law. In order to provide relief to pensioners and senior citizens, a new clause (5) has been inserted in Part III of the 2nd Schedule to the Ordinance, by virtue of which profit earned under both the schemes would be taxed at normal rates as a separate block of income but maximum tax rate, in any case, shall not exceed 10% of the profit."

Behbood and other income certificates.–Following is an extract from CBR's Circular No. 17 of 2004, dated July 17, 2004:–

"The "yield" or "profit on debt" arising on investment in the Behbood Savings Certificates or Pensioner's Benefit Account was liable to withholding tax at the rate of 10% of the amount of yield or profit and the tax so deducted was adjustable against final tax liability of the concerned person. In order to relieve the senior citizens, pensioners & widows from the inconvenience caused in obtaining refunds if the tax so deducted was in excess of actual liability, a new clause (36A) has been inserted in Part-IV of the second schedule to the Income Tax Ordinance, 2001. A separate circular No.12 of 2004 dated July 1, 2004 explaining the provisions of said clause has also been issued."

"The undersigned is directed to refer to your letter No.MCC/Misc/26/Group.III/2008 dated 20th May, 2009, on the subject and to state that the goods classified under PCT Head 52.01 were included in clause (56) of Part IV of the Second Schedule to the Income Tax Ordinance, 2001, in the Finance Bill, 2008. "(56) The provisions of section 148, regarding withholding tax on imports shall not apply in respect of-

(i) goods classified under Pakistan Customs Tariff falling under Chapter 27, 86 and 99."

"The original clause in this regard was introduced through Finance Act, 2022 placing bar on selection of any case for audit under sections 177 and 214C for four years if audit of income tax affairs of that case has been audited in any of the four proceeding years. The original intension of the said clause was to avoid repeated audits which have been resulting in genuine hardship to taxpayers. However, multiple interpretation of said clause resulted in multiple outcomes resulting in inconsistency in application of the said clause by the field formation. Through Finance Act, 2025 the said clause has been redrafted for clarity which stipulates that a person whose income tax affairs have been selected for audit in any of the proceeding three tax years, such person will be immune from the selection for audit under sections 177 and 214C of the Ordinance during the currency of that time frame."

Rule 4-Basic Salary, clarification. Following is the text of CBR's Circular No. 8 of 1992 dated March 24, 1992:–

"Queries have been made as to whether bonus paid to the employees of banking companies owned and controlled by the Federal Government could be considered as part of the minimum of the time scale of their basic salary and included for valuation of the rent-free accommodation under rules 5 and 6 of the Income Tax Rules, 1982.

2. It has been ascertained that bonus paid to the employees of the aforesaid banking companies is a regular ex-gratia payment. It is not payable to them in accordance with the terms of employment and the same neither constitutes part of basic salary nor enters into computation of pension or retirement benefits.

3. In this view of the matter, it is clarified that bonus paid to the employees of banking companies owned and controlled by the Federal Government may not be treated as part of "salary" as defined in rule 3(2) and cannot be considered for the purposes of valuation of rent-free accommodation under the Income Tax Rules, 1982."

Rule 5-House rent allowance in cash. Following is an extract from RCIT Central Region's Letter No. RCIT./167/MISC. Part II/87-88/8040, dated April 4, 1988:–

"The legal position is that amount received in excess of 45% of the basic salary has to be added to the income as a taxable perquisite. So in all cases where such excess House Rent Allowance has been restricted to 10% of the salary rectification will have to be made to arrive at the correct figure for total income."

Following is an extract from CBR's Letter C. No. ITO 8(5)/88 dated September 19, 1988 in respect of the matter discussed in the RCIT's letter reproduced above:–

"I am directed to request to you that all such cases which have been under-assessed may be re-assessed as required under the law to recover the loss of revenue under intimation to the Board. It is further proposed that the campaign of rectification of all such orders should be launched immediately so that it is completed before the introduction of new assessment scheme."

Rule 7-Rent free unfurnished accommodation. Following is the text of CBR's Circular Letter C. No. Dy. 458/DT. 14/89 dated October 9, 1989:–

"Please refer to the above.

2. I am directed to say that reference have been received in the Board regarding interpretation of Rule 5(b) of the Income Tax Rules, 1982. The references is "whether the addition is to be restricted to 10% of the basic salary or of the salary of the assessee".

3. It is clarified that Rule 5(b) relating to provision of rent free un-furnished accommodation, exempts the said perquisite if the annual value of such accommodation does not exceed 45% of the minimum of the time scale of the Basic Salary. However, when the annual value exceeds the said limits provisions of rule 5(b) are attracted. The language of rule 5(b) is very clear in that the amount in excess of 45% of the minimum of the time scale of basic salary is again not fully taxed but restricted to 10% of the salary and not the basic salary.

4. I am further directed to request you to kindly issue instructions to all officers concerned that extra care should be taken while making assessment in cases where rule 5(b) of the Income Tax Rules 1982 applies. The above clarification issued by the Board should be strictly followed in all cases."

Free furnished accommodation to Ambassadors. Following is an extract from CBR's Circular letter No. IT-JI-1(28)/85, dated February 6, 1986:-

"Perusal of terms and conditions of appointment of Ambassador as received vide Ministry of Foreign Affairs' O.M. No. Rules -6/2/85, dated January 21, 1986 has revealed that in addition to free furnished accommodation, 75% of all utility charges including the cost of heating, electricity, gas and water charges in respect of residence of the ambassador is also borne by the Government. This facility comes within the ambit of `perquisite' under the Income Tax law.

I am accordingly directed to say that only 10% of the above 75% would be exempt and the balance would be taxable in the hands of the recipient."

Rule 9(2)–Substitution.– Sub-rule (2) before substitution by Notification No. SRO 590(I)/2004, read as follows:–

"(2) Where any perquisite is receivable in cash the whole amount shall be included in employee's salary."

House Rent Allowance.– Following is an extract from CBR's Circular No. 17 of 2004, dated July 17, 2004:–

"The house rent allowance received in cash upto 45% of minimum of the time scale or where there is no time scale of the basic salary subject to maximum of two hundred and seventy thousand rupees has been made exempt from tax in the case of salaried taxpayers whose salary income is six hundred thousand rupees or more. Rule 9 of Income Tax Rules, 2002 has accordingly been amended. This change in exemption limit would be applicable with effect from July 1, 2004 for tax withholding purposes and for tax year 2005 and onwards for the purposes of assessment."

Rent free housing to employees in multi-unit buildings. Following is the text of CBR's Letter C.No.3(18)(ITR)/05, dated October 22, 2005:–

"It has been brought to the notice of the Board that Rule 9(4) of Income Tax Rules 2002 is ambiguous in cases when the accommodation in the areas as mentioned in the said rule has two portions or is a multi story building occupied by different employees.

2. It is clarified that in such cases, the covered area occupied by each occupant shall be taken into consideration for the purposes of valuation for accommodation in terms of Rule 9(4) of the said Rules."

The transaction is settled by transferring the securities sold from his account maintained in Central Depository System to the investor(s) buying the securities with credit of sale proceeds to the account of investor disposing of the securities.

(ii) Tax treatment

Disposal of security is to be taken as taxable event, at settlement date. Capital gain will be computed by applying FIFO method. If the securities holding period is more than one year, then no CGT shall be collected, otherwise, as per holding period, CGT shall be collected as per the holding period.

8-125-31-12-16

(iii) Example

A, being a client of a broker, has 2,000 shares of company ABC in his account. He acquired 1,000 shares on the 1st January, 2011 at Rs. 15 per share, 500 on the 1st July, 2012 at Rs. 16 per share and 500 on the 1st January, 2012 at Rs. 14 per share. (b) Squaring up transactions in ready, futures and derivatives

(i) Details of the transaction

An investor holding shares disposes of such shares, but on the same day or in same futures or derivative contract he buys same quantity of shares. The system does not change the inventory balances of the person in his account. The net difference of sale and purchase is either paid being profit or recovered being loss from the investor.

(ii) Tax treatment

Since there is no movement in the account, the net difference is payable to the investor, the same shall be taken as capital gain for holding period less than 6 months and the net difference will be subject to tax collection at 10%. If the net difference is recoverable, then the same shall be treated as loss and no tax shall be collected.

(iii) Example

In the example given in clause (a)(iii), in addition to the above, if A on the 28th February 2013 sold 500 shares, at Rs. 23, purchased 500 shares at Rs. 21 and then sold 500 shares at Rs. 22.

In this case, the average selling price of the two sales would be Rs. 22.5 per share which will be taken as the basis for computing capital gains. Consequently, gain of Rs. 750 (500 x (22.5-21)) shall be taken as taxable at 10%. Whereas, on remaining 500 shares sold the taxable gain, if any, will be computed by taking sale consideration at Rs. 22.5 per share by apply FIFO method on inventory held by A in his account.

(c) Transfer owing to privatization

(i) Details of the transaction

Owing to privatization, the shares of Government owned entities may be offered to public through stock exchanges. In such case, the Government shareholding is placed in the account of Privatization Commission and, after subscription, the shares are transferred from Privatization Commission's account to the accounts of the buyers.

(ii) Tax treatment

Transfer of shares by the Federal or Provincial Government in an entity will not be subject to capital gains tax due to exemption contained in section 49 of the Ordinance.

8-125-31-12-16

Acquisition of shares shall not be subject to any tax. The cost of acquisition of the shares shall be the price paid by the buyers to acquire the shares and such cost base shall be taken into account for computation of capital gain on any subsequent disposal of shares by the buyers.

(d) Negotiated deal transactions

(i) Details of the transaction

Certain investors holding shares may sell through negotiated deal at a price agreed with the buyer e.g. a strategic sale and purchase of shares to acquire or dispose of controlling shares. Such transactions are reported as negotiated deal transactions at the relevant stock exchange through a stock broker in the manner prescribed by such stock exchange.

(ii) Tax treatment

The price reported as selling price or the market price, whichever is higher, shall be taken into account to compute capital gain on the basis of holding period of such securities.

(iii) Example

A holding 51% shares in company ABC (51,000 shares acquired at Rs. 10). He negotiated a price of Rs. 30 per share with a foreign investor who intends to hold company ABC. The transaction is reported to the stock exchange through the broker. In case the market price of such shares on that date of transaction is Rs. 25, the capital gain shall be computed at the price of Rs.30 being higher of reported selling price and market price. Gain will be computed at Rs. 20 per share (Rs. 30 less Rs. 10) .

In case the market price of such shares on that date of transaction is Rs. 35, the capital gain shall be computed at the price of Rs.35 being higher of reported selling price and market price. In this case gain will be computed at Rs. 25 per share (Rs.35 less Rs.10)

(e) Transfer owing to acquisition

(i) Details of the transaction

Certain transactions in listed securities, fulfilling the rules and regulations, are entered into to acquire voting shares and takeovers under the Listed Companies (Substantial Acquisition of Voting Shares and Takeovers) Ordinance, 2002. Such transaction may be entered into at negotiated price or may be executed through the pricing mechanism of stock exchange.

8-125-31-12-16

(ii) Tax treatment

The actual selling price, negotiated or quoted, whichever is higher, in accordance with the provisions of relevant laws, as reduced by the cost of securities on FIFO basis, shall be taken as capital gain or loss and considering the example given in clause (a)(iii), any taxable gain shall attract collection of tax at applicable rate.

(f) Buy-back of shares

(i) Details of the transaction

Pursuant to section 95A of the Companies Ordinance, 1984, a company may buy back its shares from its shareholders. If an investor holding shares exercise option then shares held by him are transferred to the company.

(ii) Tax treatment

The transfer of shares under buy-back arrangement will be taken as disposal and the price paid by the company to acquire the shares shall be taken as sale price to compute capital gain and collect tax thereon, if such gain is taxable.

(g) Transfer from one account of investor to his another account

(i) Details of the transaction

An investor holding securities in his one account transfers such securities to another. In case where securities are transferred from singly owned account to another singly owned account that may be maintained with same or different participant or from a joint account to another joint account with same combination of joint holders this will be treated as portfolio transfer as no change has occurred in overall portfolio of the investor. However, in case of transfer

[1]Clause (g)(i)&(ii) substituted by SRO 1145(I)/2016 dated December 07, 2016.

Before substitution these read as follows:-

"(i) Details of the transaction

In case where shares are transferred from singly owned account to another singly owned account that may be maintained with different participant or from a joint account to another joint account with same combination of joint holders this will be treated as portfolio transfer as no change has occurred in overall portfolio of the investor. However, in case of transfer of shares from a singly owned or joint account to an account where ownership structure is different, such transfers shall be treated as disposal.

(ii) Tax treatment

In case of portfolio transfer where ownership of shares does not change, no capital gain tax shall be computed. Whereas in all other cases, such transfer shall be treated as disposal and shall be taxed accordingly."

of securities from a singly owned or joint account to an account where ownership structure is different, such transfers shall be treated as disposal.

(ii) Tax treatment

In case of portfolio transfer where ownership of securities does not change, no capital gain tax shall be computed. In such a case the date and cost of acquisition of the securities shall not be changed owing to such portfolio transfer.

In all other cases, including transfer by investor from one fund in an Asset Management Company to another fund maintained by same or another Asset Management Company, such transfer shall be treated as disposal and shall be taxed accordingly.]

(h) Securities lending and borrowing (SLB)

(i) Details of the transaction

An investor borrows securities from a person holding such security for a specified period under an outright purchase and re-sale contract. Investor sells the borrowed security in the market and on or before contract completion date repurchases it to return to the lender. The borrowing investor while returning the security to the lender pays financial charges for the period of use of security.

(ii) Tax treatment

In accordance with rule 13L(1)(b), the net difference in the hands of the borrower resulting in completing the whole transaction, including the financial charges incurred on borrowing the securities, is to be treated as capital gain or loss, as the case may be. The income of the lender, being mark-up income, shall not be subject to capital gain tax.

(iii) Example

A borrowed 1,000 shares from B for short term. The agreed value of the borrowed shares is Rs. 100 per share on which mark-up for the specified period is to be paid by the borrower at the time of returning the borrowed securities. A sold such borrowed securities at Rs. 101 per share and subsequently on the date agreed to return the shares to the lender [(below rates are hypothetical and used solely for understanding purposes, therefore, rate as per Division VII of Part I of First Schedule will be applicable in case of actual transactions)], re-purchased 1000 shares at Rs. 90. At the time of settlement, the borrower also paid a sum of Rs. 2 per share as mark up on borrowed security to the lender.

(s) Merger

(i) Details of the transaction

(ii) Tax treatment

Since no change of ownership of the shareholder is involved therefore such transfer will not be taken as taxable event and no CGT will be collected on such transfer. [1][Similar treatment shall be applicable in case of merger of funds consequent of an order of court or SECP.]

(iii) Example

A holds 1,000 shares in ABC which he acquired at Rs. 10 each on the 1st January, 2013. ABC merged into company XYZ through scheme approved by the High Court. Further, the cost and date of acquisition of new [2][securities] will remain same, as it was for existing [2][securities].

(v) Specie dividend

The shares will be added in the share holders' account and the cost [4][of such shares shall be taken as zero] whereas, the acquisition date will be the date on which shares are credited. Such cost base shall be taken into account for computation of gain or loss at the time of disposal of shares received as specie dividend and original shares.

[1][(zc) Setoff of losses in case of investors having securities of multiple categories:

Details of transaction:

An investor holds various securities i.e. shares of company listed in Pakistan Stock Exchange [PSX], units of open ended mutual funds and future commodity contracts traded at PMEX exchange. The investor has arrived at capital gain in case of certain securities while also incurred capital loss on other securities that is eligible for setoff with capital gain arrived at during the period on other securities.

(i) Tax Treatment:

Effective from 1 July 2016, units of open ended mutual funds and future commodity contracts are brought in the ambit of Eighth Schedule under NCCPL. Accordingly the investors will be entitled to have the capital loss adjusted against the capital gain in terms of Rule 13N(6) while NCCPL will calculate capital gain tax liability of net capital gain position i.e. after adjustment of capital losses for the year in terms of Rule 13N(10).

(ii) Example:

The examples in respect of above are given below (below rates are hypothetical and used solely for understanding purposes, therefore, rate as per Division VII of Part I of First Schedule will be applicable in case of actual transactions):

Example 1:

Client Name: Ahmed Ali

UIN: 3520211111119

Financial Year: July 2016 to Juno 2017

Month: September 2016

Description	Tax Obligation AMC-FUND-1		Tax Obligation PMEX		Tax Obligation PSX		Net Tax Obligation
Tax Position computed by NCCPL	Gain/(Loss)	Tax	Gain/(Loss)	Tax	Gain/(Loss)	Tax	Gain/(Loss)	Tax
	100,000	10,000	200,000	20,000	(150,000)	0	150,000	15,000
Loss Allocation	(50,000)		(100,000)		150,000	0
Net Tax	50,000	5,000	100,000	10,000	0	0	150,000	15,000
Tax Collection Demand		5,000		10,000

In the above example, after adjustment of capital loss proportionally (in proportion of capital gains) during the month, NCCPL shall demand Rs 5,000 from AMC-1 and Rs 10,000 from PMEX.

[1]Clauses (zc) to (ze) inserted by SRO 1145(I)/2016 dated December 07, 2016.

Example 2:

Client Name: Ahmed Ali
UIN: 3520211111119
Financial Year: July 2016 to Juno 2017
Month: February 2017

Balance as of December 31, 2016		CGT Computation PSX-February 2017		CGT Computation PMEX-January 2017		Net CGT as of February 2017
Gain/(Loss)	CGT collection from PMEX	Gain/(Loss)	CGT	Gain/(Loss)	CGT	Gain/(Loss)	CGT
100,000	10,000	50,000	5,000	(70,000)	NIL	80,000	8,000

In the above example, it is assumed that CGT of Rs. 10,000 has been collected by NCCPL from PMEX till December, 31 2016. Now, in the month of February, the investor has capital gains arising on disposal of listed securities at PSX and resulting lax liability on such gains Rs 5.000. However, due to net loss of Rs. (70,000) as reported by PMEX for respective investor, NCCPL will determine net capital gain of Rs. 80.000 (100,000+50,000-70,000) as at February 28, 2017 with net lax liability of Rs. 8.000. But as NCCPL has already collected Rs 10.000 from PMEX as at December 31, 2016 therefore, NCCPL will refund Rs. 2,000 (10,000-8000) to the PMEX.]

[1][(zd) Future Commodity contracts entered into by the member of PMEX:

(i) Details of transaction:

A member of PMEX has entered into future commodity contracts which are traded at PMEX. These can either be settled in cash or through actual settlement. Capital gains tax would have to be worked out in accordance with applicable legal framework.

(ii) Tax Treatment:

Effective from 1 July 2016, future commodity contracts entered into by the member of PMEX are brought in the ambit of Eighth Schedule under NCCPL. Accordingly NCCPL will calculate and determine capitals gain lax liability on these contracts in terms of Rule 13N.

(iii) Examples:

(b) from the resale price is subtracted a gross margin (referred to as the "resale gross margin") representing the amount that covers the person's selling and other operating expenses and, in light of the functions performed (taking into account assets used and risks assumed), make an appropriate profit; *

(c) from that amount is subtracted any other costs associated with the purchase of the product, such as customs duty; and

(b) the cost plus mark up that an independent person earns in comparable uncontrolled transaction.

27. Profit split method.– (1) The profit split method may be applied where transactions are so interrelated that the arm's length result cannot be determined on a separate basis.

(2) The profit split method determines the arm's length result on the basis that the associates form a firm and agree to divide profits in the manner that independent persons would have agreed on the basis that they are dealing with each other at arm's length.

(3) The Commissioner may determine the division of profits on the basis of a contribution analysis, a residual analysis or on any other basis as appropriate having regard to the facts and circumstances.

(4) Under contribution analysis, the total profits from controlled transactions shall be divided on the basis of the relative value of the functions performed by each person participating in the controlled transactions.

(5) Under residual analysis, the total profits from controlled transactions shall be divided as follows:–

(a) each person shall be allocated sufficient profit to provide the person with a basic return appropriate for the type of transactions in which the person is engaged; and

(i) Obtain a self-certification, which may be part of the account opening documentation, that allows the Reporting Financial Institution to determine the Account Holder's residence for tax purposes and confirm the reasonableness of such self-certification based on the information obtained by the Reporting Financial Institution in connection with the opening of the account, including any documentation collected pursuant to AML or KYC Procedures. If the Entity certifies that it has no residence for tax purposes, the Reporting Financial Institution may rely on the address of the principal office of the Entity to determine the residence of the Account Holder; and

(ii) If the self-certification indicates that the Account Holder is resident in a Reportable Jurisdiction, the Reporting Financial Institution shall treat the account as a Reportable Account unless it reasonably determines based on information in its possession or that is publicly available, that the Account Holder is not a Reportable Person with respect to such Reportable Jurisdiction;

(b) Determine whether the Entity is a Passive NFE with one or more Controlling Persons who are Reportable Persons. With respect to an Account Holder of a New Entity Account (including an Entity that is a Reportable Person), the Reporting Financial Institution shall determine whether the Account Holder is a Passive NFE with one or more Controlling Persons who are Reportable Persons. If any of the Controlling Persons of a Passive NFE is a Reportable Person, then the account shall be treated as a Reportable Account. In making these determinations the Reporting Financial Institution shall follow the following paragraphs in the order most appropriate under the circumstances as under:-

8-132-15-03-18

(i) Determining whether the Account Holder is a Passive NFE. For purposes of determining whether the Account Holder is a Passive NFE, the Reporting Financial Institution shall rely on a self-certification from the Account Holder to establish its status, unless it has information in its possession or that is publicly available, based on which it can reasonably determine that the Account Holder is an Active NFE or a Financial Institution other than an Investment Entity described in sub-clause (ii) of clause (f) of rule 78B that is not a Participating Jurisdiction Financial Institution;

(ii) Determining the Controlling Persons of an Account Holder. For purposes of determining the Controlling Persons of an Account Holder, a Reporting Financial Institution may rely on information collected and maintained pursuant to AML or KYC Procedures; and

(iii) Determining whether a Controlling Person of a Passive NFE is a Reportable Person. For purposes of determining whether a Controlling Person of a Passive NFE is a Reportable Person, a Reporting Financial Institution may rely on a self-certification from the Account Holder or such Controlling Person.

78I. Special due Diligence Rules.- The following additional clauses shall apply in implementing the due diligence procedures described above:

(1) Reliance on self- certification and documentary evidence. A Reporting Financial Institution may not rely on a self-certification or Documentary Evidence if the Reporting Financial Institution knows or has reason to know that the self-certification or Documentary Evidence is incorrect or unreliable;

(2) Alternative procedures for financial accounts held by individual beneficiaries of a cash value insurance contract or an annuity contract. A Reporting Financial Institution may presume that an individual beneficiary (other than the owner) of a Cash Value Insurance Contract or an Annuity Contract receiving a death benefit is not a Reportable Person and may treat such Financial Account as other than a Reportable Account unless the Reporting Financial Institution has actual knowledge, or reason to know, that the beneficiary is a Reportable Person. A Reporting Financial Institution has reason to know that a beneficiary of a Cash Value Insurance Contract or an Annuity Contract is a Reportable Person if the information collected by the Reporting Financial Institution and associated with the beneficiary contains indicia as described in clause (2) of rule 78E. If a Reporting Financial Institution has actual knowledge, or reason to know, that the beneficiary is a Reportable Person, the Reporting Financial Institution shall follow the procedures in clause (2) of rule 78E;

8-132-15-03-18

(3) Account Balance Aggregation and Currency Rules.-

(a) Aggregation of individual accounts. For purposes of determining the aggregate balance or value of Financial Accounts held by an individual, a Reporting Financial Institution is required to aggregate all Financial Accounts maintained by the Reporting Financial Institution, or by a Related Entity, but only to the extent that the Reporting Financial Institution's computerized systems link the Financial Accounts by reference to a data element such as client number or TIN, and allow account balances or values to be aggregated. Each holder of a jointly held Financial Account shall be attributed the entire balance or value of the jointly held Financial Account for purposes of applying the aggregation requirements described in this sub-rule;

(b) Aggregation of entity accounts. For purposes of determining the aggregate balance or value of Financial Accounts held by an Entity, a Reporting Financial Institution is required to take into account all Financial Accounts that are maintained by the Reporting Financial Institution, or by a Related Entity, but only to the extent that the Reporting Financial Institution's computerized systems link the Financial Accounts by reference to a data element such as client number or TIN, and allow account balances or values to be aggregated. Each holder of a jointly held Financial Account shall be attributed the entire balance or value of the jointly held Financial Account for purposes of applying the aggregation requirements described in this sub-rule;

(c) Special aggregation rule applicable to relationship managers. For purposes of determining the aggregate balance or value of Financial Accounts held by a person to determine whether a Financial Account is a High Value Account, a Reporting Financial Institution is also required, in the case of any Financial Accounts that a relationship manager knows, or has reason to know, are directly or indirectly owned, controlled, or established (other than in a fiduciary capacity) by the same person, to aggregate all such accounts; and

APPOINTMENT OF RECEIVER

179. Appointment of receiver for business.– (1) Where the property of Defaulter consists of a business, the Commissioner may attach the business and appoint a person as receiver to manage the business.

Rule 179-Appointment of Receiver. Following is the text of Circular No. 10 issued by Commissioner of Income Tax, Companies Zone-II, Lahore:-

"It has been observed that sometimes proper and separate orders under rule 160(2) of the Income Tax Rules, 1982 are not passed. The terms and conditions for appointment of receiver are not intimated to the defaulters. It creates difficulties both for the receiver and the defaulters.

2. In order to remove this difficulty it has been decided that the Tax Recovery Officer in future shall endorse a copy of the order for appointment of receiver to the defaulter intimating him the terms and conditions for appointment of receiver and the liability of defaulter for payment of remuneration to the Receiver.

3. The Assessing Officer, Tax Recovery Officer and IAC's shall ensure that legal requirement for invoking coercive measures are fulfilled before issue of notices and recovery proceedings are conducted courteously, effectively and strictly according to the law and Recovery Rules, 1982.

4. I shall casually or on complaint of harassment check files to ascertain that the instructions are being adhered to."

Recovery through Receiver. Following is the text of RCIT Central Region's Letter No. R-225/7422 dated May 14, 1995:-

"Complaints are being received from individual tax payers, traders associations and Lahore Tax Bar Association that Receivers are transgressing the powers as stipulated in Law/Rules. They have been found in possession of arrears lists and following the assessees even upto their residences and some of them resorting to unfair practices including carrying of arms to the premises of assessees.

2. It may be reminded that receivers are appointed only for a specific purpose -- management of business or immovable property of a tax defaulter under Rules 158 & 159 respectively. Under Rule 160 the Tax Recovery Officer is required to take possession of the business or immovable property and then hand it over to the management of the Receiver conferring upon him necessary powers. The Receiver's job is to receive the profits or rents as the case may be. Under Rule 160(3) every Receiver upon appointment is required to furnish such security as the Tax Recovery Officer thinks fit to duly account for what he shall receive in respect of the business or property. The Receiver shall also submit his accounts at such periods and in such form as the TRO directs.

3. On the other hand the Tax Recovery Officers are not making appointments of Receivers as per provisions of law stated above. The orders appointing receivers do not clearly lay down what business or which immovable property is to be managed. The appointment orders remain vague. The Receivers are asked to recover arrears which is the function of the Inspectors of the Department.

4. It has further been learnt that a heavy rate of remuneration ranging from 10-20% is being allowed to the Receivers which constitutes a very heavy cost in the collection of taxes. The scale of remuneration is required to be a graduated one ensuring minimum cost.

5. Receipts are not being issued by some of the Receivers and the recovery does not find way into the Govt. Treasury.

6. This Office has not come across any case in which appropriate security has been obtained by the TRO from the Receiver and the latter is also being required to maintain and render accounts to ensure safety of Government money. The Receivers are private individuals and are not under our control and the cases in which they are engaged involve revenue worth millions of rupees. Thus if they are not made to comply with the requirements of rule 160(3), it amounts to a serious lapse on the part of the Tax Recovery Officers.

(2) Attachment of a business under this rule shall be made by an order prohibiting the defaulter from transferring or subjecting the business to a charge in any manner and prohibiting all persons from taking any benefit under such transfer or charge and intimating that the business has been attached under this rule. A copy of the order of attachment shall be served on the defaulter and another copy shall be affixed on a conspicuous part of the premises in which the business is carried on and at a conspicuous place in the office of the Commissioner.

(3) Where the Commissioner so directs, such order shall also be published in a newspaper.

7. The CsIT are requested to ensure that appointment of a Receiver in each case is made as per requirements of Rule 160. The appointment of Receivers in which the aforesaid requirements of Law/Rules have not been met with may be reported immediately to safe-guard the public money.

The receipt of this latter may be acknowledged."

Following is the text of Letter dated May 6, 1995 from the President Lahore Tax Bar Association, Sheikh Asif Salam, addressed to the RCIT Central Region:-

"It is respectfully submitted that the appointment of receivers in a large number of cases is causing harassment and hardship to the assessees and is bringing a bad name to the Department. Moreover, the provisions of law are not being adhered to in the process of appointment and recovery through receivers. Some common complaints made by our members are summed up as under:-

i) Rules 158 and 159 of the Income Tax Rules, 1982 specifically provide for the purpose for appointment i.e. to manage the business and to manage the immovable property of the defaulter assessee. The orders appointing receivers do not clearly lay down what business or which immovable property is to be managed giving vague and arbitrary scope to the receiver. Sometimes, like in many salary cases, there is neither any business in operation nor is there any immovable property yielding rent or other revenues but still a receiver is appointed who in some cases, attempts to dispossess the assessee of his movable property to enforce recovery.

ii) A heavy rate of remuneration at a flat 10% is generally fixed for the services of the receiver. A graduated scale like one in case of valuers under Rule 208 is most desirable since in cases where the amount involved is substantial and/or the recovery may not be difficult, payment of a very high fee would not be commensurate with the services.

iii) The remuneration of the receiver is being recovered from the assessee while there is no provision in the law authorising any such recovery. Under Rule 160(4) only the "expenses of management" can be adjusted/recovered from the assessee. These have to be restricted to actual expenses and cannot be converted into a levy or fee without there being a law to this effect.

iv) The receivers on their own take actions which under Rule 160 have to be backed by an order of the TRO like dispossessing from immovable property.

v) Security is not being obtained from the receivers inspite of mandatory requirement under Rule 160(3)(a).

vi) No system has been developed for ensuring maintaining of accounts by receivers (ref. Rule 160(3)(b).

vii) Sometimes the receivers do not issue any receipt for the amounts recovered.

viii) Due to lack of checks and balances and lucrative remuneration, the Receivers are generally resorting to unfair practices including carrying of arms to the premises of the assessees.

The matter requires your urgent interference in view of the recovery drive in the month of May and June, 1995. The Association shall be highly obliged to you for an early and kind action."

180. Appointment of receiver for immovable property.– Where immovable property is attached, the Commissioner may, instead of directing sale of the property, appoint a person as receiver to manage such property.

181. Power of receivers, etc.– (1) Where it appears to the [1][Officer] to be just and convenient, the Officer may by order–

(a) remove any person from the possession or custody of the property;

(b) commit the same to the possession, custody or management of the receiver; and

(c) confer upon the receiver all such powers, as to bringing and defending suits and for the realization, management, protection, preservation and improvement of the property, the collection of the rents and profits thereof, the application and disposal of such rents and profits, and the execution of documents as the owner himself has or such of those powers as the Commissioner thinks fit:

Provided that nothing in this rule shall authorize the Commissioner to remove from the possession or custody of property any person whom any party to recovery proceedings has not a present right so to remove.

(2) The Commissioner may by general or special order fix the amount to be paid as remuneration for the services of the receiver.

(3) Every receiver appointed by the Commissioner shall–

(a) furnish such security, if any, as the Commissioner thinks fit, to account duly for what he shall receive in respect of the property;

(b) submit his accounts at such periods and in such form as the Commissioner directs;

(c) pay the amount due from him as the Commissioner of Income* directs; and

(d) be responsible for any loss occasioned to the property by his wilful default or gross negligence.

(4) The profits or rents and profits, of such business or other property, after defraying the expenses of management, be adjusted towards discharge [2][of] arrears, and the balance, if any, shall be paid to the defaulter.

182. Withdrawal of management.– The attachment and management under this part may be withdrawn at any time at the discretion of the Commissioner, or if the arrears are discharged by receipt of such profits and rents or are otherwise paid.

Rules 183 to 191-Recovery by arrest of defaulters. Following is an extract from CBR's Circular Letter C. No. IT-T. 3(26)/86, dated May 6, 1986:-

"It has been agitated before the Board that, in order to effect collection, warrants of arrest are being issued by the Tax Recovery Officers in cases where appeals against the demand raised are pending at various appellate forums. Trying to recover disputed demand through such coercive measures amounts to harassment of the taxpayers. The issue has been considered and it has been decided that as a rule defaulters may be arrested only as a last resort. In cases when appeals are still pending such an action may only be undertaken with the prior clearance of the Commissioner of Income-tax/Wealth-tax."

Rule 214-Renewal of approval, satisfaction of Commissioner.– Following is the text of RCIT Central Region, Lahore's letter No. RCIT/2(101) 41(5)/1368/R dated October 5, 1991, explaining the corresponding provision of Income Tax Rules, 1982:–

"The undersigned is directed to request that after a case of renewal of a charitable/religious institution is processed by the concerned ITO, the Commissioner may send a suitable report in each case to enable the RCIT to decide if renewal is to be granted or otherwise. Especially the following information about the institution may be mentioned in the report:

(a) NTN of the religious/charitable institution.

(b) A certificate to the effect that assessment for A.Y. 1990-91 (in the case of the religious/charitable institution) has been finalised either to levy tax on total income or on a part of its income or to grant total exemption from tax.

(c) A certificate that the reasons for setting apart and not utilising the money referred to in sub-clause (iv) of clause (b) of sub-rule (5) of rule 41 are valid and proper. If the reasons are not valid, this fact may be mentioned in the Report.

(d) A certificate that the money set apart does not exceed Rs. 10,000 or 25% of income (including donations), whichever is less, and that if the money set apart is in excess of this limit, the excess has been invested in NIT or in other Government Securities. If this condition is not fulfilled, this fact may be mentioned in the report. Sometimes a larger sum of money is kept in hand to meet day to day expenses in the subsequent year. In such a case the zonal office should examine cash book of the subsequent year to report if keeping in hand such an amount was justified in view of expenditure in the subsequent year.

(e) A certificate to the effect that the religious/charitable institution does not suffer from the four disqualifications listed in rule 41(4).

(f) Whether the irregularities in the functioning of the institution are of such a nature that renewal may not be granted for calendar year 1991 or a mere warning for being careful in future is sufficient. Whether the institution functioned during 1990, for the purpose for which it was granted approval/renewal and complied with the provisions of its charter and relevant provisions of income tax law relating to approval/renewal u/s 41(1)(d) (The irregularities, if any, noticed by the Zone have to be annexed with the findings).

2. It may please be noted that each renewal application has to be processed and report therein has to be sent to the CIT Office within sixty days of the receipt of renewal application by the zonal office from the applicants. In case it cannot be sent by zonal office within 60 days, an interim report indicating reasons causing delay may be sent to RCIT office. Such an interim report must be sent a week before the expiry of period of 60 days. If it does not contain any confidential matter, a copy of the same may be sent to the applicant so that he is made aware of the causes of delay."

Following is the text of CBR's Circular Letter No. 71(61)IT-V/82, dated November 30, 1982, explaining the corresponding provision of Income Tax Rules, 1982:–

"Income Tax Rule 41(5) provides that the Board will renew approval granted under Section 47(I) (d)/47(4) of the Income Tax Ordinance, 1979 only after the renewal application of a charitable/religious institution is processed by the Zonal Commissioner of Income Tax. This has been done to ensure that renewal is granted to those institutions which are working as per the provisions of income tax law and their charters.

2. In order to ensure that the renewal applications for calendar year 1983 are processed promptly and properly a system may be laid down for the guidance of assessing officers. The following may be considered while evolving a system:

(i) The assessments for 1982-83 in respect of institutions falling under jurisdiction of each ITO may be finalised by 31st December, 1982. This was indicated in Board's earlier letter of even number dated 19th May, 1982. Until and unless assessment for 1982-83 is finalised before the due date for renewal applications for calendar year 1983 the ITOs will have no basis to process the new renewal applications. According to Income Tax Rule 41(5) (a) a renewal application has to be processed by the Commissioner of Income Tax within two months of its receipt. The renewal applications will be submitted by the institutions during January-June, 1983.

(ii) On finalisation of assessment either the institution will be subjected to tax or proceedings will be filed for the reason that it is not liable to tax.

(iii) The ITO has to ensure that renewal application is made on the forms prescribed vide Income Tax Rule 41. It should also be ensured that the documents listed in rule 41(5)(b) are submitted.

3. After processing a renewal application received under rule 41(5) the Commissioner of Income Tax has to give the following findings while forwarding the case to Central Board of Revenue:

(a) Whether the institution is liable to tax for assessment year 1982-83.

(b) Whether the institution functioned during the year 1982, for which it was granted approval/renewal by the Board, as per the provisions of its charter and relevant provisions for income tax law.

(c) Whether the irregularities in the functioning of the institution during the year relevant to assessment year 1982-83 are of such a nature that renewal may not be granted for calendar year 1983 or a mere warning for being careful in future is sufficient.

(Note:– The irregularities noticed by the ITO have to be annexed with the finding).

4. Receipt of the letter may please be acknowledged."

2. I am further directed to state that in case the donee/beneficiary is an institution or a hospital, the proof should be in the form of a formal letter of thanks bearing a reference number and giving the name and designation of the head of the organisation receiving such a donation.

3. Commissioners of Income Tax may therefore kindly ensure that the above information is submitted to them at the time of Approval or Renewal of Approval as per Rule 41 of the Income Tax Rules, 1982."
